FORTIETH CONGRESS.

By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 24, 1868.

SENATE.

The Senate met at 10 o'clock.

The joint resolution to regulate the carriage of passengers on steamships and other vessels was amended so as not to apply to California steamers and passed.

A long discussion took place on the bill relative to the Alexandria Canal, authorizing the construction of a railroad bridge by the canal company.

Messrs. CAMERON and SHERMAN strenuously opposed it as being in the interest of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to control the Southern as well as Northern travel.

It was amended to forbid exclusive privilege to any company and passed.

The Senate at 12 o'clock went into executive session.

The amendment to the House bill for the payment of the captors of Jeff Davis were non-concurred in and a Committee of Conference asked.

Mr. CHANDLER called up the joint resolution in relation to surveys and examinations of rivers and harbors, which passed.

Mr. WILSON introduced the following joint resolution, which passed:

Resolved, &c., That persons now holding civil offices in the provisional governments of Virginia and Texas, who cannot take and subscribe to the oath prescribed by the act entitled "an act to prescribe an oath of office and for other purposes," approved July 2d, 1862, shall, on the passage of this resolution, be removed therefrom, and it shall be the duty of the District Commander to fill vacancies so created by the appointment of persons who can take said oath.

A Committee of Conference was ordered on the bill to establish a line of steamships between New York and Europe.

The House bill to protect the rights of actual settlers upon public lands was passed as follows:

Be it enacted, &c., That in no case shall more than three sections of public lands of the United States be entered in any one township by scrip issued, to any State under the act of July 2d, 1862, for establishment of any agricultural college therein.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

House met at ten o'clock.

The Senate bill for a temporary loan to redeem the compound interest notes was passed.

A bill was passed appropriating $39,000 for temporary clerks in the Indian Bureau and State Department and expenses of Surveyor General's office.

The Senate amendments to House bill to provide for an American line of mail and emigrant steamships between New York and European ports were non-concurred in and a Committee of Conference asked.

The Senate joint resolution granting permission to officers and soldiers to wear the army badge was passed.

The Senate amendments to House bill for the exchange of public documents with foreign countries were concurred in.

Mr. BANKS, from the Conference Committee on the Alaska bill, made a report.

The preamble originally offered as an amendment by Mr. Lourghidge, declaring the right of the House to intervene in treaties, is struck out and the following clause substituted: "And whereas, said stipulations cannot be carried into full force and effect except by legislation, to which the consent of both houses of Congress is necessary."

After a brief discussion Mr. PAINE moved to lay the Conference report on the table. Negatived—yeas 36, nays 80.

After a noisy and excited discussion, in which, however, nothing of any public interest was developed, the report of the Conference Committee was agreed to—yeas 91, nays 50.

The Senate bill relating to the punishment of certain crimes against the United States was passed.

The motion to reconsider the vote on taking a recess from Monday next was called up by Mr. WASHBURNE, of Illinois, and laid on the table—yeas 76, nays 72. This makes the action of the House yesterday final.

Mr. FARNSWORTH made a report from the Conference Committee on the bill to further amend the postal laws. Agreed to—90 yeas, 33 nays.

The Senate bill for the relief of contractors for the construction of iron clads and machinery was referred to Committee on Claims.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Indiana, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported a bill reducing the time when honorably discharged soldiers can secure titles under the homestead bill from five years to one year, which passed.

Mr. HOUGHEY introduced a joint resolution placing loyal citizens of Alabama on equal terms with the citizens of other States, according to the act of July 4th, 1864. Referred to Committee on Claims.

Mr. SYPHER introduced a bill to enforce the third section of the fourteenth article of the Constitutional amendment. Referred to Judiciary Committee.

Also, a resolution for a money order system between the United States and France. Referred to Postoffice Committee.

Mr. BINGHAM, from the Reconstruction Committee, reported a bill entitled "an act to provide for the more speedy reorganization of the States of Virginia, Mississippi and Texas, and for other purposes." The first section authorizes the Constitutional Conventions of Virginia, Mississippi and Texas heretofore elected to exercise the following powers, in addition to the powers now authorized by law: To make removals and appointments of all officers of the provisional Governments; to authorize provisional Governments; to remove and appoint registers and judges of elections, to be eligible to any election office; and to organize and maintain a constabulary force to preserve peace and to aid in the execution of law; to provide for the reassembling of the conventions, and for holding elections, particularly in ratification of the Constitution, and to pass such ordinances not inconsistent with the Constitution and laws of the United States as they may deem necessary to protect all persons therein in their lives, liberties and property.

The second section provides that the ordinances passed by such Conventions shall be enforced by the provisional governments until disapproved by Congress, not to be construed into a denial of jury trial for offences against the laws of those States.

The third section requires military commanders to give aid in preserving peace and enforcing the law, and especially in suppressing unlawful obstructions and forcible resistance to the execution of the law.

The fourth section provides for the reassembling of the Mississippi and Virginia Conventions on the fourth Wednesday after the passage of this act, which shall proceed to form Constitutions and submit the same to the people.

The fifth section repeals all laws conflicting with this act.

The bill was originally presented by Mr. Raum to the Committee.

Mr. LAWRENCE, of Ohio, offered an amendment making it a penal offense, punishable with fine and imprisonment, for any person in said States to vote or to act as an officer of election in the ensuing Presidential election and making it the duty of the President to prohibit such thing. Adopted.

The bill was then passed—yeas 112, nays 27—a strict party vote.

On motion of Mr. SCHENCK, a Committee of Conference was asked on the funding bill, and Messrs. Schenck, Logan and Boutwell were appointed.

Mr. BROOMALL, Pa., from Committee on Accounts, presented a report on an investigation into the disbursement of the contingent fund of the House. The report shows that the charges on which the investigation was ordered were entirely unfounded, and that the number of House employés in the present Congress is only the same as in the Thirty-fifth Congress. The report closed with a resolution making changes in the issue of stationery, &c.

In reply to a question, Mr. BROOMALL said the examination had not shown any improper conduct on the part of the Doorkeeper.

The report was accepted and the resolution adopted.

Mr. BINGHAM, from the Committee on Claims, reported a bill for the relief of Lieutenant John H. Ostler, of the 26th Regiment Ohio Infantry.

The Senate bill to establish a new land district in Nebraska was passed.

The SPEAKER expressed the hope that members would attend all through to-morrow's session in order that there might be a quorum to act on the Conference report on the funding bill, if the Senate should reciprocate the request of the House for a Conference Committee, which is not yet done.

The Senate amendments to the House bill relating to the Alexandria Canal were concurred in.

Mr. HOPKINS, from the Committee on Public Lands, reported a bill requiring lands granted to aid in the construction of railroads to be sold to actual settlers in quantities no greater than a quarter section and at prices not exceeding two dollars and fifty cents an acre.

After debate the House, at five o'clock, adjourned until half-past ten o'clock to-morrow, when the business on the Speaker's table is to be proceeded with.

TWENTIETH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT CONFERENCE.

[Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

STONEBORO, PA., July 24, 1868.

The third session of the Republican Congressional Conference of the Twentieth District was held to-day, and ballots to the number of one hundred and fifty taken. Judge Pettis lacked but one vote of being nominated on the first day. His Conferees to-day offered a resolution to refer the whole matter to the popular vote of the District, in order to have the will of the people respected. The resolution was rejected. His friends had been offered, if they would reconsider the resolution and let the people to speak, allowance for the half of the votes cast for the Judge in his own District. This was refused. It was then proposed to make allowance for counting only half of the votes in the District. This also was rejected.

At noon the Crawford county Conferees voted for McAdam and nominated him, but a Clarion county Conferee changed his vote.

LATER—The one hundred and seventy-fifth ballot resulted: Pettis, three; Gillfillan, three; Lathy, three; McAdams, three.

GEORGIA.

Ashburn Military Commission—Democratic Convention—Proceedings of Legislature.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ATLANTA, July 24.—The Military Commission for the trial of the Columbus prisoners to-day adjourned sine die. The prisoners were remanded to the custody of the post commandant at Columbus, and will be released on $20,000 bail each for their future appearance if called on by the State.

The Democratic Convention to-day nominated Gen. John B. Gordon and Hon. John L. Clarke electors for the State at large. The nominations and platform of the New York Convention were ratified.

The House passed the following by a vote of 119 to 20: "Resolved, That we respectfully and earnestly petition Congress to remove from every citizen of Georgia, irrespective of party associations, the disabilities imposed by the third section of the fourteenth amendment of the Constitution of the United States."

Governor Bullock sent a message to both Houses congratulating the people on the establishment of civil government. He declares the new State Constitution is not prospective; applauds the freedom of the ballot-box; declares we are a nation and not a collection of independent sovereignties; claims the National Legislature should have the right to declare who should be citizens. He lauds the present labor system in the State as the most efficient in the world; approves the removal of political disabilities as fast as the relations of the Southern people to the General Government will justify.

Fenian Congress at Buffalo.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BUFFALO, July 24.—The Fenian Congress is still in session here and it is expected to close its session to-morrow. All that has transpired of their secret session is that they have been in close communication with military men from various sections of this country and also military representatives from Canada. A spy managed to worm himself last night into one of the Fenian Circles, sitting immediately under the room occupied by the Senate, and but for the timely interference of leading members of the organization, he would have been roughly handled. He was summarily ejected.

A Municipal Squabble.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

RICHMOND, July 24.—One of the securities on the official bond of H. L. Wigand, Collector of City Taxes, having withdrawn, the City Council last night appointed a committee to receive the books and money from him. Wigand this morning refused to give them up, claiming that the Council was not a legal body, and he having been appointed by the military, could not obey their order. Gen. Stoneman was appealed to, and issued an order removing Wigand and putting Edmund Winne in his place. The Collector handed over his books and papers under protest.

FROM EUROPE.

Advices from China and Japan—Bribery Bill Passed in the English House of Commons.

[By telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHINA AND JAPAN.

MACOA, CHINA, June 12, via London, July 24.—Intelligence is received that the entire rebel army which besieged Tien-Teen, after abandoning the attempt to take that city, left Rieho river and marched off in a southerly direction.

Important news has reached here from Japan and Shanghai. The Mikado has proclaimed a new edict against native Christians. Civil war continued. The party of the Shagoon was gaining strength. It was reported Stals Bashi had raised an army of 200,000 men and assisted by a fleet of seven vessels of war was seriously menacing the city of Yeddo. The natives in and around Osaka were throwing every obstacle in the way of foreigners to prevent them from buying land there according to treaty stipulations.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, July 24.—In the House of Commons to-night the bribery bill was under consideration. Mr. Henry Fawcett moved that the clause providing that the election expenses be paid out of the local rules and not by the candidates, which had been stricken out, be restored to bill. D'Israeli deprecated the reinsertion of this clause as dangerous to the passage of bill. It gave a guarantee to rate payers against expenses caused by improper candidates or political adventurers. He hoped the House would not agree to the motion. After long discussion, Mr. Fawcett's motion was rejected, and the bill finally passed.

AUSTRIA.

VIENNA, July 24.—Dispatches from Belgrade report that the Secretary and servants of Prince Karogeorgewick are now on trial on a charge of complicity in the plot for the murder of Prince Michael.

Prince Karageorgewich has sent a telegraphic dispatch to Belgrade, denying the jurisdiction of the Court over members of his household now on trial, and he denounces the testimony which has been elicited as a confession compelled from the prisoners by torture.

FRANCE.

PARIS, July 24.—The Corps Legislatif was engaged to-day in a debate on the subject of the Franco-Mexican bonds.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

LONDON, July 24—Evening.—Consols 94¾ for both. Bonds 72¾. Illinois 95¾. Erie 43¾.

FRANKFORT, July 24.—Bonds 76⅝@76¾.

WORCESTER, MASS.

Base Ball Match—Riotous Proceedings by Collegians—The Regatta—Contest Between Yale and Harvard.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WORCESTER, MASS., July 24.—The city is overflowing with visitors and all trains come in crowded. The Base Ball match between the University nines of Harvard and Yale commenced this morning, but was postponed until Saturday in consequence of a thick mist which enveloped everything and drenched the grass. After the ball last night riotous demonstrations were made by the Collegians. They tore down the curtains, broke windows and furniture, overturned everything that was moveable in the streets, tore down signs, and defied the police in abusive language. The police finally arrested about thirty rioters, and quelled the riot. The whole party were arrested. Those who were prominent leaders in the riot were kept in custody during the night, and in the municipal court this morning sixteen of them were fined each $20 and one held to bail in the sum of $500 for the larceny of a gold watch and sign from a building, and to be required to answer the accusation before the Supreme Court.

The Harvard boat got off best, with a clear rapid dip and a strong stroke. The Yale men were rather slower, and their oars threw up spray in taking the water. Deafening cheers saluted them all along the line of the shore, and from the hill-tops overlooking the Lake. At the first quarter mile the Harvard boat had the lead by a length. This they steadily increased all through the race, and came home one-eighth of a mile ahead of the Yale boat. Time: Harvards, 17 minutes 48 seconds; Yales, 18 minutes 38½ seconds. Great cheering followed the victory of the Harvards.

Over twenty-five thousand people witnessed the regatta to-day, on Lake Quinsigamond. In the wherry race Tyler, of Boston, beat McKlal, of Cold Spring, New York, easily. Distance rowed was two miles; time of winner, fourteen minutes and fifty-two seconds. The four oared race was three miles, and was won by the Ward brothers, with ease in twenty minutes and fifteen and a half seconds. Next came the culminating event of the week, the six oared race between the crews of Harvard and Yale Universities. Distance rowed three miles.

St. Louis Items.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, July 24.—At attachment suit was brought in the Circuit Court to-day by E. J. Gay, of St. Louis against Wm. Edwards, of New Orleans. The amount involved is $30,000.

The weather has been clear and much warmer than yesterday, the mercury rising to 94 degrees at three in the afternoon. The storm of yesterday did not, therefore, break up the heated term, as was anticipated.

Base Ball at Cincinnati.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, July 24.—The return match of base ball between the Riversides, of Portsmouth, and the Cincinnatis was played to-day on the Union grounds, and resulted in favor of the latter, the score standing thirty-four to sixteen. A large audience was present, and great interest was manifested in the game.

THE CAPITAL.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 24, 1868.

TREATIES CONSIDERED.

The Senate was in Executive session four hours this afternoon. The Sandwich Islands reciprocity treaty was first considered and then laid aside in order to take up the treaty with China. The latter was fully discussed up to the hour for taking evening recess. It is believed the Sannwich Islands treaty will not be ratified.

The Senate was in Executive session to-night until half past eleven o'clock. Nine hours time of to-day's session was spent in the consideration of the treaty between China and the United States, which was ratified with amendments.

NOMINATIONS.

The President this afternoon sent to the Senate the following nominations: J. L. Dickey, of Illinois, and J. Hubly Aston, of Pennsylvania, to be Assistant Attorney Generals; Erastus D. Webster, Assessor of Internal Revenue, Third District, of New York.

MILITARY DEPARTMENTS.

By direction of the President, the Secretary of War will soon issue a general order reorganizing the existing military districts in the South. A number of officers now on duty in those departments will be relieved and ordered to different posts.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS.

The receipts from customs from July 13th to the 18th, inclusive, were $2,847,460.

BALTIMORE.

Extraordinary Rain Storm—Portions of the City Submerged—Great Damage to Property—The Flood Unprecedented.

By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BALTIMORE, July 24.—Rain commenced falling early this morning. After a slight intermission it began to pour in torrents and up to this hour, two P. M., has continued to fall incessantly. That portion of the city adjacent to Jones' Falls is inundated, and travel is entirely suspended in that vicinity. Frederick and Harrison streets are completely flooded, also Centre Market Space, and the Maryland Institute is surrounded by a sheet of rushing water that is carrying hogsheads, barrels, bales of hay, &c., with it. The first floors of the stores on the streets named are under water, and the merchants have been compelled to remove their goods to upper stories. The loss will be very heavy, but cannot be now estimated. No loss of life is yet reported.

LATER.—The river commenced rising a few minutes before one o'clock at the rate of two inches per minute, and has continued to rise up to this hour, 2:45 P. M. Calvert street is flooded to Lexington, within a few feet of Monument Square; North street almost its entire length to the depth of four to eight feet; Holliday street to Fayette street, Ford's Theatre being surrounded by water which is passing down Holliday and Baltimore streets; Gay, Frederick and Harrison streets are entirely submerged. The water at Jones' Falls is several feet above the bridges, and it is not yet known whether they have been swept away. On many wharfs south of Platt street, from the Falls to Frederick street, the water is several feet deep.

A city passenger car was swept from the track on Gay street down Harrison with a number of passengers. The wildest rumors prevail in regard to the number drowned, some estimating it at seven, and others stating that all were saved but one, Mr. Ward, a printer, who was drowned. A number of dray horses and some drivers are reported drowned.

There is no communication between the eastern and western portions of the city. The flood is sweeping everything before it. No communication south by telegraph, all the lines being down. No such flood has ever been known here.

10 P. M.—The flood to-day subsided as suddenly as it arose. Shortly after four the water was carried off within the banks of Jones' Falls. At this hour the damage cannot be approximated, but none of the estimates place it below three millions of dollars. Hundreds of stores were submerged, and many hogsheads of molasses on the wharves and sugar in warehouses were entirely destroyed. A number of buildings and stores were undermined and damaged. Dimmell's foundry and Bentley's iron works were partially swept away. The gas works, supplying the eastern part of the city, were submerged, and that section is without gas to-night. Some of the water mains are reported carried away.

The loss of life in the city has not been ascertained. It is believed, however, but few have been drowned. Mr. Ward, who was reported drowned, was saved and is well. Col. Webster, Collector of the Port, rescued a drowning man by rushing in four feet of water as the man was being borne away in a torrent completely exhausted.

Trains to Washington are running. The damage to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad is comparatively small. On the Northern Central road the damage is reported greater and trains will not run for several days.

A telegram this afternoon from Ellicott City, formerly Ellicotts Mills, reports the Granite Mills carried away and sixty lives lost. Dr. Owens' entire family, except himself, were drowned.

Democratic Ratification at Cincinnati.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, July 24.—The Democrats of Cincinnati held a monster ratification meeting and opened the campaign to-night. About ten thousand people were present and great enthusiasm prevailed. Hon. George H. Pendleton, George H. Pugh, and others, were the speakers. Mr. Pendleton spoke at length on his financial theory, stating that Seymour and Blair are pledged to it. He endorsed Seymour in very strong language. Mr. Pugh said the Democratic party demanded that the National Banks be abolished and the public debt paid in greenbacks, and declared there could be no peace in the country until Radical rule is over.

Resolutions were adopted ratifying the action of the late National Convention, declaring, first, the platform to embody the wisest doctrine, which, if carried out, will give peace to the country and relieve an oppressed people of many of the burdens of taxation; second, that the candidates command the admiration of the Democratic party; third, approves the course of the Ohio delegates in presenting the name of Seymour after it was clear Pendleton could not be nominated.

A Congressional Split.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MEMPHIS, July 24.—The Republican Convention of the Eighth Congressional District, which met at Brownsville yesterday, nominated candidates for Congress. This district split, one-half bolting. One party nominated Hon. D. A. Munn, present member, and the other nominated General A. J. Smith. Much bitterness is manifested by both wings against each other.

Letter from a Workingman to his Brother Toilers.

INTRODUCTORY.

Brothers—Writing is not my forte, nor is mine the "pen of a ready writer." Doubtless, among those who read my letters, will be many who could write more ably and forcibly; to such I would merely say: "Take up your pens and write. I should rather read than write such a series as I have undertaken."

Though I introduced myself last fall, it may not be amiss for me to assure my readers that I am a workingman, a member of a Trade Union, and a firm, unwavering supporter and friend of Trades Unions, willing to stand or fall with the one to which I belong in all that it may enact for the good of the craft, so long as it lets politics alone and does not attempt to coerce its members into support of the candidates or principles of any party whatever. In political matters it is the right of each citizen, be he workingman or gentleman of leisure, to use his individual judgment—aye, it is the duty of each citizen to use his judgment; he who allows any man, or clique, or class, or society to dictate to him, and votes for any man or ticket in obedience to such dictation is not worthy to be a citizen of a free and enlightened country; any man who has not intelligence sufficient to enable him to decide for himself, which party represents right, and claims the patriot's support, owes it to his country and to himself to abstain from voting. I do not ask any Trades Union, or the Trades Assembly, as an organization, to endorse the party to which I belong or its nominees; all I ask is that such associations let politics alone, and let their members do what they severally conceive to be their duty as American citizens. I have confidence in the intelligence and patriotism of the masses of workingmen; they can form opinions and act on them quite as intelligently as the would-be leaders and place-seekers who last fall manipulated the Third Party.

In this letter I only propose laying out my work, not commencing it—or in other words, I want merely to tell you what I propose to write about in this series: I intend to examine the record of each of the two parties; to analyze their platforms; to look into the histories and antecedents of their candidates; to show the probable effects of the triumph of each; and from all this I hope to deduce a clear answer to the question: "What is the duty and interest of the working classes in this crisis?"

You will perceive that in this plan I ignore the Third Party. I do so, because what survived last fall has just been sold out cheap, if not given away, to the so-called Democratic party. The deed has been signed, sealed and delivered, (though I suspect Uncle Sam has been cheated by the omission of the revenue stamp.)

EXTRACT.—"For and in consideration of the honor (?) of being placed on the ticket with Seymour, Blair, et id omne genus, and the still greater honor of associating and affiliating with the tried and true patriots Barr, Strain, Sawyer, and their followers, called Democrats, but better known as Copperheads, the parties of the first part, (Burt, Frethy, McGinty & Co.) have bargained, sold, and transferred, and do hereby bargain, sell, and transfer to the parties of the second part, (the said Barr, Strain, Sawyer & Co.,) the remnant of the Third party, known last fall as the "Labor Reform Party," with all its rights," &c., &c.

The sale is complete and without reserve. I can imagine the feelings of some of my Republican friends who allowed themselves to be blinded by the wire-pullers and place-seekers (Burt, Frethy, McGinty & Co.) last fall, and I sympathize with them. But my letter has grown too long, twice as long as I intend to make my subsequent letters.

The Ruined Girl—Finale of the Cincinnati Seduction Case.

We published a few days since an article from the local columns of a Cincinnati paper, giving the details of the alleged seduction of a young girl from this city, while on a pleasure trip to St. Louis. The party charged with the crime was arrested, but has since been discharged, as will be seen by the following from the Cincinnati Chronicle: "We have heretofore given several phases of the alleged seduction case, which, it was supposed, implicated a gentleman who has heretofore borne an excellent reputation. Grave doubts as to the guilt of the accused, Charles Devine, have all along existed, and many things connected with the conduct of the supposed victim have been brought to light, which certainly have not improved her reputation, or strengthened her case. In fact her relatives in Pittsburgh must have had serious doubt as to the chastity of the young lady, for her brother-in-law came here Tuesday evening and, abandoning the prosecution, took her home. This morning the case was called in the Police Court, when Major Blackburn, the prosecuting attorney, stated that he believed Mr Devine to be innocent of the charge of seduction, and requested that the case be dismissed, which request was granted. Mr. Devine says he registered the young lady as his wife because he was aware that but few hotels would receive young ladies unless in some legal way under a gentleman's protection."

The Old Methodist Graveyard.

At the last meeting held by the lot owners in the old Methodist burying ground in the Eleventh ward, a Committee was appointed to confer with the Commissioners appointed by the act of Assembly to have the bodies removed and ascertain what arrangement could be made, and also to ascertain at what price suitable lots could be obtained in cemetries adjacent to the city. The meeting then adjourned subject to the call of that Committee, which, having performed the duties of its appointment, have called a meeting of the lot holders at the Eleventh ward school house this evening to hear their report. The Committee, we learn, have been unable to obtain an interview with the Commissioners, and consequently will have nothing to report from that quarter. The Commissioners, we are informed, claim that they have been under an expense of $12,000 in removing the bodies from the ground. This statement, however, is not credited by the Committee, who state that responsible parties proposed to remove all the bodies from the lot and give them decent burial.

The Sheriff has advertised a part of the burial ground for sale, on an execution issued at the suit of the city authorities for grading and paving tax, amounting to $2,300.

The Absconding Clerk.

We published a few days since the fact that information had been made against a Wylie street clerk, by his employer, charging him with larceny; that the accused had been arrested in Harrisburg, and that Chief of Police Green had left for that city to bring the prisoner back. The Harrisburg Telegraph contains the following in regard to the matter:

"A dispatch was received at the Mayor's office from Chief of Police Green, of Pittsburgh, yesterday morning, requesting the officers to arrest a man named W. Wilson Woods, who, it was supposed, would arrive here on the noon train, upon the charge of having stolen a sum of money and a number of watches. The individual was arrested at the depot by officers Baugh and Davidson, and conducted to the Mayor's office, where, upon instituting a search, one hundred and fifteen dollars and a number of watches were found on his person. The defendant was committed to prison to await the arrival of an officer from Pittsburgh."

The Chief returned from Harrisburg yesterday with the prisoner, who was committed to jail in default of bail, for a hearing on the 29th inst.

THE HOT SEASON.

BY DR. O. W. HOLMES.

The folks that on the first of May
Were under-coats and hose,
Been to say, the first of June.
"Good Lord! how hot it grows!"
At last two Fahrenheits blew up,
And killed two children small,
And one barometer shot dead
A tutor with its ball.

Now all day long, the locusts' song
Among the leafless trees,
Three new hotels warped inside out,
Their pumps could only wheeze;
And ripe old wine that twenty years
Had cobwebbed o'er in vain,
Came spouting through the rotten casks
Like Joly's best champagne!

The Worcester locomotives did
Their trips in half an hour;
The Lowell cars ran forty miles
Before they checked their power;
Roll brimstone soon became a drug,
And loco-fosos fell;
All asked for ice, but everywhere
Saltpetre was to sell.

Plump men of mornings ordered tights,
But ere the scorching noons
Their candied mounds had grown as loose
As Cossack pantaloons!
The dogs ran mad—men could not try
If water they would choose;
A horse fell dead—he only left
Four red-hot, rusty shoes.

But soon the people could not bear
The slightest hint of fire;
Allusions to caloric drew
A flood of savage ire.
The leaves on heat were all torn out
From every book at school,
And many blackguards kicked and caned
Because they said, "Keep cool."

The gaslight companies were mobbed,
The bakers all were shot,
The penny press began to talk
Of lynching Doctor Nott;
And all about the warehouse steps
Were angry men in droves,
Crashing and splintering through the doors,
To smash the patent stoves.

The abolition men and maids
Were tanned to such a hue
You scarce could tell them from their friends
Unless their eyes were blue;
And, when I left, society
Had but its ancient guards,
And Seattle street and Temple Place
Were interchanging cards

COULDN'T AFFORD TO MARRY.

It was noticed among the friends of Mr. George Lane that, for some cause unknown to them, a somber hue had fallen on his thoughts.

The reason was inferred, and correctly. Arrows from a pair of bright eyes had wounded him, and the pain found no abatement night or day. Was the maiden coy or unkind? No—the maiden was familiar and tender. There was healing in the eyes that shot forth arrows.

And the pain found no abatement night or day? None! George Lane was no blind lover, ready to risk all consequences in pursuit of any object—but a sensible young man, who counted the cost. This was the reason of his trouble. Love is sweet; but life is a thing of sober earnest; and as George put the love and life together, taking things as they were, he could not see how love was to leave any permanent sweetness.

An intimate friend holding him by the hand one day said:

"George, my dear fellow, what has come over you? I don't believe you have smiled for a month. Are you in love?

"Yes," was the frank reply.

"Aha! a sickness of the mind. Well, I'm glad to know it's nothing more serious. Love wounds to heal. If, as the poet says:

"Keen transport throbs through every vein,"

it is also true that we never know

* * * * "so sweet a pain."

"There is no sweetness in my case," said the young man. "The pain is sharp, and there was no medicine on the arrow point."

"Then the maiden is unkind?"

"No."

"She loves you in return?"

"If I have any skill in reading eyes."

"What, then? Are her parents unwilling?"

"I have never asked them."

"You are a strange lover to look so woe-be-gone. Where rests the trouble?"

"There is much beyond love," said Lane.

"Yes."

"Marriage and cost of living."

"True. But you have a good salary. Has the young lady nothing?"

"She has a father who is doing an excellent business; but the family live at an expense which must cover, if not more than exhaust, all the profits."

"Who is the young lady? I will not betray your confidence."

"The youngest daughter of Abraham West."

"Hardware merchant?"

"The same."

"I know her, and a sweet girl she is, Nellie West. Why, George, she's the very one for you. And you have favor in her eyes! I congratulate you."

"You needn't then," was the sombre-faced reply of Lane, "for I am not witless enough to bare my neck to the halter of matrimony, if the act is to bind me to a perpetual serfdom."

"What do you mean?"

"Simply, that the manner in which Mr. West has raised his daughters unfits them for the position of wives to young men of my condition. They have the education; the tastes and the accomplishments we desire and must have; but their habits and expectations are fatal dowries for any poor young man to accept. They have no fortune to bring their husbands, and yet must be supported in comparative elegance. The idea of useful employment does not seem to have entered their minds. Work, in their view, involves something of degradation. Ah, well I must dismiss a fond illusion, that was sweet while it lasted. I shall go no farther in this unsafe direction. Some other man, bolder, or less inclined to count the cost, must win consent from a heart it would be a life long happiness to call my own."

"Nonsense, George," replied the friend. "If the young lady really loves you, she will adapt herself to your circumstances. Nellie is a charming girl. Press your suit, and after gaining her consent, talk over life's sober realities with her. She has sense and right feeling, will readily comprehend how much of happiness is involved in your prudential ideas. A woman who loves a man well enough to marry him, will cheerfully accommodate herself to his circumstances."

"Accommodate!" said the young man curling his lips. "I don't like the word. It hurts my pride."

"Pride is never a good counsellor, friend George."

"My manhood, then. It hurts my manhood. A young woman without a dollar in the world, 'accommodate' herself to the circumstances of a young man whose income is twelve hundred a year! You can't reconcile me to the case under that plea. My pride, manliness, self love, or self-esteem—as you will—revolts against the humiliation. No, no—George Lane has independence as well as prudence, and thinks their counsels worth heeding."

"While I think," answered the friend, "that George Lane is a little too high strung for the case under consideration, I know Nellie very well, and think her a sensible girl. True, the way in which her parents have conducted her home education is not favorable to just views in life. But love is clear-sighted and strong-hearted. Take her out of her present false relation to society, and she will make you, I am sure, a good wife in every respect."

"No, sir," was firmly answered. "Even as I talk with you, and listen to what you say, I grow more resolute in my purpose to recede from a dangerous position. If Nellie was alone in the world I might act differently, But look at the case as it stands, and see what risks are involved. There are two older sisters both married; and their husband's noses, to use a homely phrase, are well down upon the grindstone and likely to remain there. Already both have gone through the ordeal of a fall in business—and no wonder.

"Not being able as clerks to maintain their domestic establishments, they were foolish enough to set up in imitation of other people as silly as themselves; they must have stores of their own, from the income of which they drew with such unscrupulous hands, that more than all the profits were consumed in fast living."

"Somehow or other, in their break down they have managed to keep their fine furniture and houses, and still live before the world in what to me is shameless extravagance. Both are clerks again; but how they manage to keep up appearances as they do, passes my comprehension. I have met their wives a few times at Mr. West's, and they hold their heads as high as queens. I am nobody in their estimation! Why, the jewelry, lace, and other showy things that they flaunt in people's eyes so shamelessly—seeing that somebody besides their husband's have actually paid for them—cost more than a third of my year's salary—"

"But you have nothing to do with these ladies," interrupted the friend.

"True, and I don't mean to have anything to do with them. But the case would have another bearing were I a brother-in-law. I would not have their bad influences operating on my wife. She must have as costly outfitting as they. She must have a fine house to live in, and as fine furniture to display to her friends; and my nose must come down to a grindstone, like the noses of their unfortunate husbands. I've gone over the matter twenty times or more, and can see it no different. It won't do, and there is no use in trying to harmonize things that are utterly incongruous."

"Take another view. Suppose Nellie came into my views of these things, and turned herself away from all these allurements. Suppose we, like sensible people, lived below our income, and set ourselves to make provision for a time when expenses would be greater; I would gradually accumulate; set up business, perhaps, and rise into a position of some influence in the way of money matters. Then I must consent to be ruined, or written down as a miser and a churl by the whole family. Papa lives on the extension principle, just making both ends meet, as I infer. Well, tight times come every now and then. He has failed once in his life and may fail again. When the strain equals resistance, a slight increase of force snaps shafts of timber. If papa gets in trouble, and son-in-law is all right, son-in-law must go to the rescue, sink or swim. It won't answer, you see. I've counted the cost, and think it too great, have looked over the hedge before leaping, and am afraid of the ditch on the other side."

"I see how it is," answered the friend, "you have large caution."

"Am I not right?"

"Perhaps so. But lovers, whose hearts are as much interested as yours seems to be, are not apt to throw prudential reasons of this character in the way of their happiness. They are usually inclined to take counsel of love alone."

"I have seen pictures of love blindfolded, but I think love a false god."

"As you will," said the friend. "But this I know; if my heart were interested in Nellie, I would never abandon her on the plea that you have advanced; at least not before I was well assured that the false life, which by a kind of domestic necessity she has thus far led, had so fostered pride and vanity as to deprave her understanding. Be assured, George, that in this you sin not against your own heart, but the maiden's!"

"I spent an evening with her last week," he replied. "I went with my mind more than half made up to let my lips betray my feelings. It so happened that she was not alone. A young lady was her guest; a very sprightly, outspoken, critical, rather sharp-tongued girl of eighteen or twenty—smart enough for twenty, and thoughtless enough for sixteen. People and things were talked about with a flippancy and freedom neither charitable nor delicate. Among other subjects, the marriage of a friend was discussed, and the well or ill of the case settled in a manner that made my cheek burn."

"I never thought Amy the simpleton to get married in that mean sort of a way," remarked the young lady." "She must have wanted a husband! If a man cannot do better by me than that, I'd advise him to give my door a wide birth."

"Nellie laughed at her friend, and returned a few assenting words that stung me to the quick. The present of a ring by the young husband was remarked upon. Nellie said it was an emerald, but her friend pronounced it green glass, adding that nothing but a diamond would have suited her ideas. I waited in uncomfortable suspense for Nellie's response. It came in these words, "Nothing but diamonds for me."

"Thoughtlessly said, George!" remarked his friend. "You take too seriously the light speeches of girls, who often talk without thinking, just to hear themselves talk."

"If it were jesting," answered Lane, "the subject was unfortunate at the time. But this was not all. My ears were quick; and I took in every inflection of voice. Nellie said many other things connected with the subject of their young friend's marriage to a poor young man who could not afford her a respectable place in society, that it would be folly for me to forget. When I left her house that evening, I drew a veil over her image in my heart, and I have tried not to lift that veil since. The pain it is costing me I have not been able entirely to conceal, as witness your observation of a change in my appearance. But I am strong enough to do what reason tells me is right. No word or intimation of what is in my heart have I passed to the young lady, so that I can turn from her without dishonor. Heaven send her a happy lot in life!"

The voice of George Lane faltered a little on the closing sentence, He was fully in earnest, as shown by his subsequent conduct. More deeply than he had imagined was the heart of Nellie interested, as her face, dreamy eyes, and quiet manner long afterwards witnessed. But he did not return. Two years afterwards she married, beginning life with a young husband just in business, who drew from his light capital $2,000 to furnish his house in style suited to the social grade in which she had been moving. In three years extravagant living had consumed more than all he was worth, and under the pressure of a "tight money market," he failed and was sold out by the sheriff, Nellie being forced to go back with her two children, to her father's house. The husband, in a fit of desperation, went to California, and died from sickness and exposure among the mines.

In the meantime George Lane, who could never obliterate Nellie's image from his heart, continued to live a single life. He was now in business, and gradually accumulated property. The death of her husband, and in a few months afterwards the death of her father, awakened anew his interest. He knew she was poor and dependent; and he learned incidentally, with pain, that since her father's death she was living in the house of a brother-in-law who was not able to support his own family. That one still dear to him should be thus dependent, and as he felt, humiliated, hurt the young man. He could not bear the thought, and began turning over in his mind one suggestion of means after another, looking to her relief. But her considerations of delicacy and propriety were in the way. He felt that he could do nothing.

One morning he met her in the street. He was walking with his eyes on the pavement, thinking of Nellie, when looking up suddenly he saw her at a distance approaching. She was poorly clad, and had a bundle on her arm, which Lane recognized at a glance as work from a clothing store.

Their eyes met and rested on each other. Lane made a motion as if he was about to speak; but Nellie dropped her veil over her face and moved on with a quicker pace. Ere the veil fell he saw an expression in her eyes, and on her changed and wasted countenance, that filled his heart with the tenderest and saddest feelings. What a history of suffering was revealed!

The rest need not be told. If Nellie lost her lover when skies were bright, she found him when the rain was falling into the dark days of her life, and when painful experience had made her vision clear.

On the lover's conduct in turning from Nellie in her sunny days we give no opinion. We only record the fact, and give the reason. Inferences and opinions are with the reader—and the lesson also.

300 ACRES OF WHITE PINE AND HEMLOCK TIMBER LAND, situated on Black Lick Creek, Burlington township, Indiana county, Pa., 9 miles from Ninevah Station, on the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, and about 60 acres of cleared land, under good fencing. On the premises are erected one Grist Mill, with 2 run of burrs and 2 run of stones, all complete and in good running order. One Saw Mill, in complete order, cutting 3,000 feet per day.

One dwelling house, two stories high, with 12 rooms, 40x42 feet.

One dwelling, 28x40 feet, 8 rooms.
One " 14x26 " 2 "
One " 18x26 " 4 "
One " 18x26 " 3 "
One " 24x26 " 5 "

One Stable, 20x24 feet, 10 feet high; Blacksmith Shop and other outbuildings. This land is underlaid with stone coal and iron ore, and it has plenty of never-failing springs of water, besides the creek running through the entire premises, and will be sold cheap and on easy terms, to a good man with a little money.

10 LOTS ON BEDFORD AVENUE, each lot 20 by 100 feet, on which is erected four two story frame dwelling houses, of 6 rooms and hall each. These lots embrace a full square of ground, fronting 200 feet on Bedford avenue, and bounded on each end by a wide street, with an 18 feet alley in the rear. On the premises is a pump of lasting and excellent water, and the surface of the lots is level and needs neither filling nor grading to prepare them for building purposes, and being in a section of the city where property is increasing very rapidly in value, make them desirable for an investment, especially as the present houses rent for enough to pay a good interest on the sum asked for the whole property. Call soon on the undersigned and secure a cheap, safe and paying investment.

Also, A FARM OF 100 ACRES of good land, situated in East Wheatfield township, Indiana Co., Pa., 90 acres of which is cleared land, in good cultivation, 10 acres being in excellent meadow. The improvements are a two-story frame dwelling house of 4 rooms, a frame bank barn, 36x60 feet, with stabling underneath, and other outbuildings, all in good repair. It is in a good neighborhood, convenient to schools, churches, stores, &c., and will be sold very low for cash or approved securities.

Also, a RIVER BOTTOM FARM of 76 acres, 19 miles from the city, in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., on the Youghiogheny river, one-half mile from Elrod's Station, on the Connellsville railroad; near churches, schools, stores, &c., in the flourishing villages of Boston and Green Oak. The improvements are a two-story brick house of six rooms, hall and cellar, a good frame bank barn with stabling underneath, and other outbuildings; a well of good standing water at the door, and several standing springs of water on the farm, and an orchard of 700 trees of selected fruits of apples, cherries, pears, peaches, quinces and grapes. This property being located near the line of the railroad, within one hour's ride of the city, makes it very desirable for gardening or a dairy farm; it is also a good and beautiful location for country homes near the city, lying immediately on the river, on the opposite side from the railroad. The West Newton Accommodation and other trains on the railroad afford certain and frequent opportunities of daily communication to and from the city. Will be sold as a whole or in lots of one acre or more, to suit purchasers.

Also, A FARM OF 173 ACRES, situated in St. Clair township, Westmoreland county, Pa., near the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Hoosion Station. The improvements are a two-story frame house, with six rooms and good cellar, a frame bank barn 40 by 60 feet, and other outbuildings. There is on the place a young apple and peach orchard; 130 acres cleared land, divided into fields of convenient size, a large portion of which are well set in clover and timothy; the residue of said tract covered with good timber. It is well watered and underlaid with coal and limestone, and is convenient to churches, schools, stores, mills and blacksmith shops. A real good bargain is offered in this excellent farm; and with it will be sold all the personal property on the premises, consisting of horses, cows, stock cattle, hogs and poultry, harness, gears, wagon, plows, farming implements and household and kitchen furniture. Together will be sold very low and on easy terms, to a responsible purchaser.

Also, a desirable and very fertile Tract of Land of 158 ACRES AND 25 PERCHES, in Elizabeth Tp., Allegheny county, Pa., on the line of the Hempfield railroad, and one and one-half miles from the Connellsville railroad at Suter's Station. On this farm are 40 acres of superior white oak timber, which alone is now worth one-half the price asked for the whole tract. The improvements are a log house, frame barn, good fencing, and an apple orchard of good fruit. It is well watered and underlaid with limestone and flag stone of a superior quality, with stone coal for the use of the farm.

Also, The best FARM in Fairfield township, Westmoreland county, Pa., of 250 ACRES, about six miles south of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad at Bolivar Station. The improvements are two large hewed log dwellings; one of the largest and best frame barns in the township; two apple orchards, in good bearing condition; corn crib, wagon-shed and other outbuildings. The whole farm is under a high state of cultivation; fencing all in first rate order, and the land of the best quality of limestone soil, about 200 acres of which is cleared and the residue of the tract in good timber, such as white oak, rock oak, hickory, walnut and beech. This property will be sold very cheap and on good terms, as the owner wishes to engage in other business. For particulars enquire of

THE ANTI-TORNADO

RAILROAD BRIDGE

Is eminently adapted for our large western rivers, with spans of 550 feet, 80 feet above low water. It will resist the strongest winds, hurricanes, and the heaviest loaded trains will not affect it. I made the discovery on the 25th of June last. A model 6 feet long I exhibit, and give specification as to principles to all parties who take an interest in bridges, and charge 25 cents.

RIVER NEWS.

The river is about stationary at this point with fifteen inches in the channel by the Monongahela metal mark. The weather continues close and sultry, with occasional showers of rain—telegrams report a very heavy rain as having fallen at Oil City on Thursday night.

With the exception of the Monongahela river packets, navigation is entirely suspended.

Captain James C. McVay, a well-known steamboatmen, but who for some time past has been engaged in the banking business, was married on Thursday evening to Miss Sadie A. Neely, of Allegheny city.

The America left St. Louis for Pittsburgh the other day.

The J. N. McCullough has been chartered by the Cincinnati and Louisville Packet Company, and will take the place of one of the larger boats in that trade during the low water season.

—The Swallow, New Orleans to Cincinnati, was lying at New Albany on Wednesday, unable to get over Portland bar. The ferryboats took her Louisville freight.

—The Columbia, from Fort Benton, and out from St. Louis three and a half months, used her spars nearly all the way from Sioux City to Yellowstone, on account of the low water.

—A compromise has been effected between the owners of the late Hope and insurance companies, the latter paying the former $12,000, the owners keeping the wreck. The Hope was insured for $15,000.

—The St. Louis Democrat, of Thursday, says: The Peninah, Capt. W. J. Kountz, has completed her second trip. Her first was St. Louis to Benton, and her second, Leavenworth to Stevenson. What she will do next is unknown.

—The North Missouri Railroad Company recently bought from the Quincy Bridge Company the towboat Huron and four barges for $14,000. They are to be used in the construction of the bridge over the Missouri at St. Charles.

—The total tonnage of vessels belonging to the port of St. Louis, steam vessels, is 82,000.00. The number of vessels is about 200. The number of vessels built during the fiscal year ending June 30, is 16, tonnage 5,129.63 The vessels lost during the same time belonging to the port of St. Louis is given at 26, with nearly 12,000 tonnage.

—The Columbia, from Benton, arrived at two p. m. She brought $10,000 in gold dust for the State National Bank, $1,500 for D. A. Constable, and $54,000 in bars for St. Louis. She also put off a lot of dust at Omaha, and other up-river towns. Among her passengers were Father De Smet, the Indian Missionary, and Mrs. W. K. Richardson, of this city. She reports the river falling all the way down.—St. Jo. paper.

—A Cairo dispatch, under date of Wednesday, says: S. A. Gard, mate of the steamer Ozark, arrived here this morning, having in charge Thomas Heath, of Point Harmer, Ohio, who was very sick. Soon after his arrival, Heath became prostrated with the intense heat, was taken to the Antrim House, attacked by congestion of the kidneys, and died in a few hours. He will be buried to-morrow, at Villa Ridge Cemetery.

—We clip the following from the Cincinnati Gazette, of Wednesday: The Charmer left for St. Louis last evening drawing about all the water there is in the river, including in her freight 100 barrels vinegar for New Orleans, and about 25 tuns of freights for New Harmony, on Wabash river. She had an engagement at Lawrenceburg for a lot of furniture, and at Madison for 15 tuns, at Louisville for 75 tuns. She has a barge. Pilots, Samuel Williamson and Wheeler Collier.....The Edinburgh, when last seen, was aground at Buffington, with her stern out of water. She had a lighter with her, which was also aground. It is said that part of her cargo was strung along on the bar for half a mile. She will probably have to await a rise..... The Silver Cloud No. 2, from St. Louis, arrived at midnight, Tuesday, and passed on up to Ironton, for which point she had a lot of iron ore. She had sold 150 tuns iron ore to get over Portland bar.

PROPOSALS FOR PAPER.

A SUPPLEMENT to an act requiring the Superintendent of Public Printing to advertise for proposals for supplying the State with printing and bill paper, approved April tenth Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That hereafter the person or persons bidding for the contract for furnishing the State with paper, as provided in the act approved April tenth, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, be required to execute a bond to the Commonwealth, with at least two sufficient sureties, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract so allotted, which said bond shall be approved by the President Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of the district or districts in which such sureties may reside; or in case of the absence or other inability of such President Judge, by the Associate Judge of the county in which such sureties may reside; Provided, That the bonds, with the sureties of the several bidders, shall be duly executed, sealed up and delivered with the proposals for furnishing said paper, and in addition to the condition above required, shall be conditioned that in case the bidder or bidders to whom the said contract shall be awarded shall neglect or refuse to accept the same at his or their bid, the said bidder or bidders, with his or their sureties aforesaid, shall be liable to the Commonwealth for the difference between the amount of the bid of the person to whom the said contract shall be awarded after such neglect or refusal; And provided further, That the Superintendent of Public Printing shall award said contract upon the same day the bids are by him opened.

ELISHA W. DAVIS,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
JAMES L. GRAHAM,
Speaker of the Senate.

APPROVED—The tenth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight.

JOHN W. GEARY.

In pursuance of the above act, the Superintendent of Public Printing gives the following notice:

TO PAPER MANUFACTURERS.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at the office of the Superintendent of Public Printing, for Supplying the State with Printing Paper.

Said paper to be BOOK PAPER, measuring 25 by 40 inches, and to weigh respectively 40 and 50 pounds to the ream. Also, DOUBLE FLAT CAP, measuring 17 by 26 inches, weighing 28 pounds to the ream. Bids will be received for each kind separately. Said proposals to be opened in presence of bidders, on SATURDAY, the 1st day of August, 1868, at the office of the Superintendent. Contract to run from December, 1868, to August, 1869.

The successful bidders will be required rigidly to conform to samples which will be furnished upon application at the office of the Superintendent. No proposal will be considered unless accompanied by a guarantee that the bidder or bidders, provided his or their proposal shall be accepted, will enter into an obligation with good and sufficient security, to furnish the articles proposed for; and each proposal must be accompanied by satisfactory evidence that the persons making said proposals are manufacturers of or dealers in the description of paper which he or they propose to furnish.

CONGRESS will adjourn on Monday next, until the 21st of September, according to the terms of the concurrent resolution passed by both Houses on Thursday.

THE experiment in shad-culture in the Connecticut river has not been a success thus far, the spawn not hatching. Farther efforts are to be made, and the difficulties may be surmounted.

MR. GLENNI W. SCHOFIELD, Republican, has been unanimously renominated for Congress in the Warren District. This is his fourth term. He possesses more than ordinary capacities, and has served with credit to himself and usefulness to his constituents and the whole country.

GEN. WARNER, one of the new Senators from Alabama, was formerly a citizen of Newark, Ohio, and at one time represented that district in the State Senate. His former fellow citizens, of all parties, will heartily unite in congratulating him upon his political promotion, and Alabama upon the acquisition of a capable and faithful Senator.

THE NEW Internal Tax Bill, having received the Executive signature on Wednesday, became a law from that date. We print elsewhere a brief synopsis of its leading provisions. The very great length of the new law excludes it from our columns. Dealers in all descriptions of spirits and tobacco will find it for their interest to provide themselves with the full text of the law as passed.

IT IS possible that the President may not in fact be amenable to the very grave suspicions which connect him with the notorious whisky ring, so potent for all purposes at Washington, but his successive nominations for the office of Commissioner of Revenue are understood to be precisely such as justify these suspicions to their full extent. No nominations of this character will ever be confirmed by the Senate.

THE subscriptions to the Chartiers Valley Railroad, though doubtless binding in law, are not in form to meet the views of the officers of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, as will be seen by correspondence on our last page. This discrepancy in form will doubtless be corrected. Meanwhile seven miles of the line, from Mansfield up, will be prepared for letting, and will be ready by the first of September. If the subscriptions already made shall be put in the desired form by that date, there will be no delay in proceeding with the work. As both the signers for the new stock and the Pennsylvania Railroad act in good faith in this matter, there is no reason to doubt that the arrangement will be properly consummated.

DEATH OF REV. JAS. RODGERS, D.D.

This venerable and revered servant of GOD died at his residence in Allegheny, on Thursday evening the 23d inst. His general health had been much impaired by a chronic asthma of several years standing. In this debilitated state, about three weeks ago, he suffered a violent attack of diarrhœa under which he had not strength enough to rally, and the catastrophe, which closed his career among men, befell him on Thursday. It was our good fortune to make the acquaintance of Dr. RODGERS in 1827, when he was a student of Divinity in the Theological Seminary of the Associate Presbyterian Church at Canonsburg, under the presidency of the late lamented Dr. RAMSEY, having graduated the year before at the Western University of this city, when Doctors BLACK and BRUCE were among its Professors. Previous to his course in the University Dr. RODGERS had, for some years, been Principal of the Academy at Meadville.

In 1831 he was licensed to preach by the Presbytery of Chartiers. After a year of itinerating, he accepted a call to the united congregations of Scottsville, in Beaver county, and Noblestown, in Allegheny county. After some time the Scottsville charge was demitted, and his whole time given to the Noblestown church until June, 1838, when he was transferred to the Pastorate of the Associate Presbyterian Church in Allegheny, then recently organized, (now the Second U. P. Church, in charge of Dr. J. B. CLARK,) which position he filled with great acceptance to a large and loving flock until 1858, when his vocal powers had become so permanently impaired as to disqualify him for further service in the pulpit, and oblige him to relinquish the public ministry. Any other man would have betaken himself to rest and quiet, but Dr. RODGERS could not forego his habit of industrious usefulness, and he accepted, and most faithfully and efficiently performed the duties, of the office of Superintendent of the Board of Publication of the U. P. Church, until overtaken, about the beginning of the current month, by the severe attack of disease, which his constitution was too far spent to withstand, and on Thursday, as stated above, his soul left its earthly tabernacle, and sped its way to the home of the redeemed, there to enjoy a blissful immortality.

Doctor RODGERS was born on the 27th of December, 1800, at Omagh, county Tyrone, Ireland. He immigrated to the United States in 1818, purchased a farm in Crawford county, Pennsylvania, and wrote for his father's family, who, in the following year, joined him and setttled on this farm. We have known him for forty years and can safely attest to his remarkable zeal and untiring diligence in the service of his Master, to his purity of heart and purpose, to his humble faith and dependence on our adorable Redeemer, to his patient and constant ministrations among the poor and sick. Few men do, or could endure, half the labor it was his habit to perform. A widow and three children, two sons and a daughter survive the good man. May the God of the widow and the fatherless be to them their all-sufficient helper and solace in this time of their sore bereavement!

THE PRICE OF PRINTING paper, used for books and by the press in this country, has been, of late years, considerably higher than it was prior to the discovery of processes for making paper from wood-shavings and straw. Yet, in fact, these processes, the latter of which has been eminently successful, should have cheapened the price of the product, to such an extent as decidedly to benefit the purchasers of newspapers and books. Why the contrary result has obtained now transpires. The owners of the patent process for making straw-paper have applied for a renewal of their patent which expires August 1st, but the renewal is opposed with positive proof that their monopoly has been not only very profitable to themselves but highly oppressive to manufacturers and consumers. The New York Tribune says:

> From every small mill these patentees exact a royalty of $10.00 cash and five-eighths of a cent a pound on the manufactured product; beside which we are credibly informed that they compel all manufacturers who buy their rights to sign a bond agreeing to stop their mills whenever ordered. Thus the Company secures an absolute control of the paper market, which circumstance alone ought to be enough to defeat their application for an extension of the patent.

But very little of this sort of paper is used for books; it enters, however, very largely into newspaper consumption, and still more generally into use for other purposes, diminishing to the same extent the demand for linen, cotton and other stocks. It appears, therefore, that the monopoly has been profitable and ought now to terminate; that this termination will cheapen paper generally, and that all classes of the people are interested to protest against the renewal of the patent.

IT IS conceded that the Military Commanders, who remain charged with the provisional control of affairs in the unreconttructed States, are all of them unfriendly to the loyal policy, manifesting a decided disposition to administer their duties in the interests of JOHNSON, BLAIR & Co. BUCHANAN in Texas, GILLEM in Mississippi, and STONEMAN in Virginia have, respectively, given marked proofs of a spirit which fills the Union men of those States with great anxiety, as it has, probably, encouraged the reviving hostility to the Union which rests at the foundation of the Democratic programme for a new civil war. The situation has many difficulties, and should receive the attention of Congress accordingly.

IN THE JULY number of the Atlantic Monthly appeared a paper entitled "A Modern Lettre de Cáchet," impeaching the management of Lunatic Hospitals in general, and of Dr. KIRKBRIDE's, at Philadelphia, in special. In the August number, which has just come to hand, there is a conclusive and trenchant reply, evidently written by Dr. KIRKBRIDE himself. The assault was so gross, and the answer so exhaustive, that the publishers felt constrained to deviate from their prescribed course and make place for the rejoinder. Keen, polished and conclusive, this latter paper will be found of great interest and value to the public.

THE country members of the Democratic party in this county were apparently so much disgusted, with the trickery by which the Pittsburgh clique brought the first Convention to such a cowardly conclusion, that they all stayed away vigorously from the second meeting of the trafficking concern on Wednesday last. Their disgust is not lessened by the discovery now that, in the opinion of this trading clique, there are not enough Democrats of honesty and capacity in the county to make a full ticket of, and they considered themselves obliged for decency's sake to fill it with the names of Know-Nothings, Republican renegades and revilers of "the Papists." It is evident the Pittsburgh ring had not the cheek to attempt this piece of hodge-podge in the face of the honest Democrats who attended the first meeting. These will now understand why the nominations were deferred, until some convenient moment when the disgusted country delegates should prefer to remain at home and look after their crops.

THE Democratic champions of the last rebellion have been printing articles lately to show that a larger per centage of rebels died prisoners in our hands than of our soldiers held as prisoners at the South. The facts are precisely to the contrary effect: Only 11½ per cent of rebel prisoners (26,436 out of 220,000) died at the North, while 17·6 per cent (22,576 out of 126,940) of our boys in blue perished under the barbarities of the gentlemen who, the other day, nominated FRANK BLAIR.

THE President and his Secretaries asked Congress to appropriate $372,000,000 for the fiscal year 1868-9. Congress has given them but $292,000,000, being eighty millions of dollars retrenched from the Democratic-rebel-Johnson administration. If the Democratic candidate for Congress in this district will overhaul his Daboll, he will find our figures correct, and that they are perfectly reliable data for his second speech in the series which is to smash Republicanism into smithereens.

MR. JOHN H. WALKER, of Erie, who was named by the Dispatch of that city, a day or two ago, as a candidate for United States Senator in place of Mr. BUCKALEW, is a gentleman of decided ability and a politician of much more than ordinary breadth of view and stendfastness of purpose. He was a competitor with Mr. COWAN for that station, when the latter person was chosen; and it would have been immeasurably better for the State and nation had he been taken instead.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The New York Independent refers to the "Pittsburgh Circular," on the Re-union of the Old and New School Presbyteries, as an element in the discussion that may prove to be one of harmony or discord, which the future only can disclose. The first article of the terms of re-union, adopted by the late General Assemblies defines the doctrinal basis of union. It first makes the Scriptures the basis of doctrinal belief. It secondly accepts the Confession of Faith as properly expressing the sense of the Scriptures. It thirdly, defines the interpretation of the Confession, limiting it to its "Calvinistic or Reformed sense," and, fourthly, this last limitation is itself limited by what is termed the Gurley amendment, which allows all the peculiarities of the Old and New School theologies to be Calvinistic or Reformed. It appears this plan is not satisfactory to many of the Old School. The "Pittsburgh Circular," it says, professes to do away with all these explanations of the Confession of Faith, and adopt that simply as expressing the system of biblical doctrines. Most of the leading Old School papers favor the change while the New School papers think it would hazard or delay the desired reunion. The only fear is that the introduction of any new feature in the basis of re-union may check the tide of union another year. The Church generally will watch the movements of these venerable bodies in their efforts to adopt a basis of re-union, with much solicitude. The re-union of these Churches will have a powerful effect upon the union movements in other branches of Protestant denominations.

Conceding that there is a marked improvement in Church buildings within a few years, the fact is prominently seen that but comparatively few have been erected with proper light, ventilation, location and egress. This is especally true of the less expensive structures in rural districts. A leading religious weekly contains quite a suggestive article on this subject, from which we glean some points worthy of reproduction. Commencing with basements, the foundation of most of the ill-constructed churches, it is urged that basements, two out of three, are damp, moldy, musty, unhealthy; badly lighted and badly ventilated. Better build a Sunday School and prayer meeting room on the rear of the lot. Arrange aisles next the walls, so the windows may be reached and light and ventilation regulated, and greasy head spots on the walls prevented. Avoid placing an aisle in front of the pulpit, with a door at the end of it. Let the pews surround the pulpit, and the sympathy between speaker and people will be accomplished. Locate the church twenty or forty feet from the pavement, with a grass plot in front, and it will look unworldly and better every way. Avoid builders, in getting up a plan, as they are the last people in the world to make one satisfactory in every respect. Take time, be at pains and expense, too, for a good plan.

Contributions are coming in pretty freely to relieve the American Board of the pressure upon it, but not sufficient to extinguish its heavy indebtedness. The current expenses of July and August are expected to be large, and unless vigorous efforts are put forth by the friends of the Board, its operations will be seriously embarrassed, and the financial year, September 1st, will close with a large balance against the treasury.

From the report of the Missionary Society of the Reformed (Dutch) Church, presented at the late annual meeting of the General Synod, the growth of the foreign mission work requires reinforcements. Two men and three ladies have offered to go to the foreign field, if the Board can send them. A call has been made upon the churches for ninety-two thousand dollars to carry on the operations in foreign countries for the next year.

The belief generally prevailed that Rev. J. P. Hubbard, the Episcopal clergyman at Westerly, R. I., would not be tried for violating a Canon of the Church. But it appears that the Standing Committee of Rhode Istand have decided unanimously "to present the Rev. J. P. Hubbard for trial, for having violated Title 1. Canon 11., and having broken his ordination vows." This seems to be merely a vote that a presentation shall be made, and the result is still in doubt.

According to the Independent's Ministerial Register, Rev. H. B. Ensworth, of the Congregational (Plymouth) Church of this city, has resigned and accepted an invitation from the Second Presbyterian Church, Rev. W. D. Howard, D.D., pastor, to serve as a supply for several months.

Daniel Drew, of New York, and Isaac Rich, of Boston, have recently increased the invested funds of the Wesleyan University at Middletown, Conn., by the gift of one hundred and twelve thousand dollars. The generous doners have now increased their gifts to the University to one hundred thousand dollars each. President Cummings, some days since, announced at the closing exercises of the year, that the University had reached a point where the hour of anxiety was past, and the future of the University was safe.

The Church of the Pilgrims, Brooklyn, Rev. H. W. Beecher, pastor, is closed until some time in September. The edifice is to be enlarged and somewhat modernized. A building is to be erected on a lot adjoining the rear of the church, in which are to be a lecture room, Sunday school room, parlors and Pastor's study. The expense is estimated at about eighty thousand dollars.

Quite a number of Camp Meetings are to be held in the "leafy grove," next month, in the neighborhood of this city. The first commences near Sewickley, on the 12th day of August. The next day, 13th, the McKeesport meeting opens about a mile or two from that town. On the 19th, Tarentum Camp Meeting begins. The city churches and contiguous charges are to be largely represented at this meeting. There is to be one near Monongahela City the last week in August, and also at Harmony, Butler county, during the first week in September.

Several gentlemen have raised a fund of sixty thousand dollars to endow the chair of Rev. Dr. McCosh, President elect of Princeton College, New Jersey. This will be a double advantage in securing him an annual income of four thousand dollars, and leaving untouched the present salary, which is continued to the retiring President, Dr. McLear. A movement is also on foot to raise six thousand dollars more to furnish the house of the new President.

We learn from the Presbyterian Banner that Rev. John F. McLaren, D.D., formerly of this city, is supplying the pulpit of the Fort street (N. S.) Presbyterian church, Detroit, during the absence of the pastor. His son, Rev. W. E. McLaren, pastor of Westminster church, Detroit, is enjoying much prosperity in his ministerial work. Every pew is rented, and the congregation has more than doubled.

According to a report made at the Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association of America the number of Associations reported in 1868 was 513, nearly two hundred more than the previous year. It is estimated that the value of the property owned by the different Associations amount to seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

TRAVELLING IS NEARLY ALWAYS pleasanter in the past than in the present. The little troubles and annoyances which are so disagreeable when they happen, only add a pleasant spice to the reminiscences of after days. A connection missed, a train off the track, a wave shipped into the cabin, thickly populated beds, imperious custom house officers, the weary labor of sight seeing, bad cooking, and many other such little troubles are really disagreeable when they occur, but become softened into jollity by time. But in spite of this every traveller for mere pleasure, will endeavor to avoid all of these that he can, and a great many of them can be avoided by a little attention to details and a little use of experience, either gained in person or borrowed. To begin with, when possible, both mid-summer and mid-winter should never be chosen as the time for travelling, for the spring and autumn seasons are devoid of much of the annoyance occasioned by heat, dust, severe cold, icy tracks and fireless stoves. A thorough knowledge of where and how you are going is a good preparation to start out with, as is also a determination to be pleased with everything and everybody likely to be met with. If going abroad, a passport is a good thing to have in cases of emergency, and a good letter to the American Consuls, procured from your member of Congress, may also prove serviceable. Always appear willing and ready to have your baggage examined when crossing frontiers and it will save you much trouble. By deciding to keep your accounts in one currency (the French is the easiest), much of the trouble connected with the constant change will be guarded against, and by studying up the money tables in your guide book before arriving in a new country, many slight imposititions may be avoided. When sight seeing is to be done and time is short, consult your guide book and select those things which you most desire to see, then consult the head waiter of your hotel as to the things which are to be seen, as you may thus discover some things neglected in the books but well worth visiting. After deciding, tell your cicerone what he must show you, and don't let him take you where he pleases. Attention to these little things, and such similar ones as you may glean from experienced friends, may save a great deal of annoyance and help you to enjoy your pleasure trip. The best piece of advice, however, that can be given to a novice about starting out on a short trip abroad is "Decide on your route before hand and don't attempt to see everything or go to every place"

POLITICAL ITEMS.

THE Pendleton Escort are now known as the Pendleton Pall-bearers.

WHITE NEGROES are now in fashion down South. They vote the Democratic ticket.

DEMOCRATIC tactics: *Doo*little and *Say*mour. Grant's plan: Say less and do more.

THE Union soldiers in the Democratic Convention were far outnumbered by the Rebels.

GENERAL GRANT crushed the rebellion. Now the rebellion seeks to crush him. Will a grateful people permit it?

"HE (Seymour) wears the mantle of Democracy." [Copperhead paper.] "The green mantle of the stagnant pool." [Shukspeare.]

IN some localities in New York it was found impossible to fire a salute for Seymour and Blair, because no Democrat knew how to handle a gun!

A WESTERN PAPER says that the Democrats in Indiana are so enraged at the defeat of Pendleton that they actually show symptoms of apoplexy if a greenback is exhibited to them.

THE Democratic National Convention opened with an eloquent prayer by the Rev. Mr. Morton, and closed with eloquent curses, not loud but deep, by the swindled Pendletonians.

THE Commonwealth says: "We are expecting every day to hear some enthusiastic Democrat give as a reason for Colfax's unfitness for the Vice Presidency, that he never was drunk in his life."

HON. JAMES HUGHES, of Indiana, one of the most eloquent of the Democratic orators, now practising law in Washington, will return to his State as soon as Congress adjourns and take the stump for Grant and Colfax.

MR. PENDLETON, with his theory of unlimited greenbacks, clings around the neck of Seymour like the Old Man of the Sea on the shoulders of Sinbad. Seymour is sure to be choked unless he breaks his tormentor's head.

WHEN people are drowned cannon are sometimes fired for the purpose of raising their corpses. The Democrats have been firing cannon over Seymour and Blair, but there is no hopes of getting their heads above water.

AN OLD SOLDIER who lost an arm says: "I am waiting to see if the people of this country are going to elect Horatio Seymour, and if they do I will swear that I lost my arm in a threshing machine, not in defense of my country."

A NEW YORK paper says that Blair takes whiskey for medicinal purposes. The Hartford Post says: "We are inclined to think it was "for medicinal purposes"—to wit, for corns. He was dreadfully corned all the time he was here."

JUDGE WOLFE, of Virginia, in 1864 published a volume of 244 pages in vindication of the South, one chapter of which contained an "Eloquent Defense of the South, by Hon. Horatio Seymour." That chapter would be interesting reading these days. Who has a copy of the work?

IT has been stated that Governor Seymour never originated anything. This is a mistake, for he was the first to inform President Lincoln "that it was believed by at least one-half of the people of the loyal States that the conscription act was in itself a violation of the supreme constitutional law."

AN exchange says: "Gen. Grant and the Democracy have done a great deal of business together within the past few years. Gen. Grant has done the tanning, and the Democrats have furnished the hides! They handed in two more last week—those of Horatio Seymour and Frank P. Blair. They will be done early in November.

IN 1860, Gen. Blair, now the Democratic candidate for Vice President, took the stump against the Democrats. In one of his Indiana speeches, delivered at Lafayette, he declared the Democratic party "the most miserable and corrupt party that ever had existed;" and he pronounced Stephen A. Douglas "the most pernicious demagogue in the United States."

WADE HAMPTON, on his way south, made a speech at a Democratic meeting in Baltimore, where he made his special acknowledgments to the rebel soldiers from Maryland, thanking them for having swept across the line and stood shoulder to shoulder with South Carolina in a great contest for liberty. He advised them to now stand firm for the Union and Constitution, which they could do by voting for Seymour and Blair.

THE New York Commercial Advertiser, at the time of the New York riots, give the following incident of the occasion:

"Governor Seymour was very much excited with the condition of affairs, and asked General McClellan to go to the scene of the rioting on the east side of the city, and address the 'people,' stating that a speech from him would quell the riot. General McClellan replied: If I go up to the people, as you call them, it would not be with a speech, but with grape and canister.

SEYMOUR'S friends, in 1863, murdered draft officers, sacked loyal offices, burned orphan asylums, outraged negroes, cheered for Jeff. Davis, Horatio Seymour, the rebels and the Democratic party. In 1868, Seymour's friends again appear in New York city, and Wade Hampton and Forrest, and the asylum-burners, the Government official murderers, the applauders of Jeff. Davis, the followers of the rebel flag, all unitedly make old Tammany ring again with cheers for Horatio Seymour.—Albany Journal.

THE following is the opening sentence of Gen. Frank P. Blair's speech at a Union meeting in St. Louis, after the fall of Sumter:

"Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen: The rebels who inaugurated this war shall not win by it as much territory as they can carry off under the finger nails!"

Extract from F. P. Blair's letter bidding for the Democratic nomination for the Vice Presidency:

"There is but one way to restore the Government and the Constitution, and that is for the President elect to declare these (the Reconstruction) acts null and void, compel the army to undo its usurpations, disperse the carpet-bag State Governments," &c., &c.

"One Currency for Rich and Poor."

So say the Democracy. And so say the Republicans.

But the One Currency of the Democracy is Depreciated Paper.

The One Currency of the Republicans is GOLD.

Elect General Grant and Peace and Prosperity will follow. And with that, Resumption of Specie Payments. And with that, Gold as the common currency, the one circulating medium.

Elect Horatio Seymour, and another Revolution, more Paper money, a deteriorated currency and a violated public faith follow.

But one Curreney, and that Gold.

But one way to reach it, and that Peace.

But one Champion of Peace, and he General Grant.

But one Party favorable to Peace and a sound uniform Currency, the Republican Party.

Democracy offers one Currency for Rich and Poor—Depreciated Paper. Republicans offer one Currency for Rich and Poor—Gold. Which will you have?—Albany Evening Journal.

Frank P. Blair—By whom He was Nominated and Whose Candidate He Is.

[From the Record of the New York Convention.]

"I now have the privilege of nominating as a candidate for the Vice Presidency of the United States General Francis P. Blair, of Missouri." [Applause.]—[The rebel Gen. Preston, of Kentucky.

"Mr. President, North Carolina makes no nomination for Vice President, but in order to show the people of the United States that we have no prejudice against a gallant soldier who fought for his section of the country, we desire to second the nomination of Gen. Francis P. Blair." [Applause.] [A rebel delegate from North Carolina.

"The State of South Carolina answers her call, not by her chairman, but by her best beloved son, a soldier, who knows better than I how to interchange the courtesies which belong to enemies in war and friends in peace. I have the honor to introduce to this Convention Mr. Wade Hampton." [Loud cheers.] [Judge Campbell, of South Carolina, one of the rebel Peace Commissioners at Fortress Monroe.

"It is due to that Convention which so cordially approved your platform; it is due to the South, and I, for my State, most heartily and cordially second the nomination." [The rebel General Wade Hampton, of South Carolina.

"As a rebel soldier of Alabama, I take pleasure in casting her vote for the gallant Union soldier Frank P. Blair."—[A delegate from Alabama.

"As a son of the old Commonwealth of Virginia, I am instructed to strike hands with the soldiers of the army of the North, in the name of Virginia, to accept and ratify, as a token of the perpetuity of this Union, the nomination of Major General Francis P. Blair, of Missouri."—[The rebel General Kemper, of Virginia.

"I have the pleasure, sir, to cast the vote of Tennessee for General Blair. And I here wish to take this occasion to thank the delegates here for the kind and uniformly courteous treatment that the Southern delegates have received at this Convention." [Great cheering.]—[The rebel General N. B. Forrest, of Fort Pillow memory.

"Mr. President, I esteem it a great honor that I have been requested by the chairman of the Texas delegation and members of that delegation on this occasion, to cast the six votes of the State of Texas for Major General Frank P. Blair."—The rebel General Ashbel Smith, of Texas.

The Democratic Negroes of Mississippi.

From the Mississippi Clarion, 17th

THE RIGHT SPIRIT.—We are glad that our white citizens are manifesting a proper appreciation of the aid which the colored voters rendered in the recent election, in rejecting the iniquitous scheme of the Radicals. Numerous barbecues have been given to these meritorious negroes, as a testimonial of their kind and appreciative feeling. Among others, we note ovations of this kind at Brandon, Rankin county; Sulphur Springs, Monroe county; West Point, Lowndes county; Greensboro, Choctaw county; Canton, Madison county; Summit, Pike county; Enterprise, Clark county.

The spirit which prompts these displays of good feeling must be kept alive. We have everything to promise ourselves by treating with overflowing kindness the colored men who have enlisted in the warfare against Radicalism in Mississippi. They have done their duty; and they deserve credit for it, and ought to be encouraged in the path they have chosen. The white and the black races are, under Providence, to occupy this country, and there must be peace among them, if they are to be prosperous.

Ratification meetings are now the order of the day in Mississippi as elsewhere. The Democratic freedmen of Pike county are to to have a grand barbecue given them at Summit on the 18th. The assemblage will be addressed by Col. Stockdale one of the delegates to the New York Convention. So says Cooper's Summit Times.

IS YOUR DISEASE RHEUMATISM?

Many persons, supposing they are suffering from this disease, have applied Linaments, Plasters and other Rheumatic Remedies without obtaining any relief, when in fact the cause of pain is a derangement of the Kidneys. These are small organs, but very important, and any obstruction or interference with its functions are indicated by pain in the back and loins, langnor and weakness, difficulty in avoiding and unnatural color of the urine. A Diuretic should at once be resorted to.

DR. SARGENT'S

Diuretic or Backache Pills

Can be relied on for these purposes; they have a direct influence on the cells of the kidneys, assists nature in relieving them of any foreign particles, and stimulates them to a healthy and vigorous action.

Dr. Sargent's Backache Pills

Contain nothing injurious, being composed of entirely vegetable remedies; they do not sicken nor gripe—on the contrary they act as a gentle tonic and restores tone to the system. They are recommended by all who who have tried them.

DISASTER FOLLOWS NEGLECT.

Whoever feels the premonitory symptoms of sickness should remember that it adds the agony of self-reproach to the pangs of disease to remember that they might have been prevented.

Languor, debility and low spirits are often the precursors of terrible disorders. They indicate an immediate necessity for a tonic, and the best tonic in existence is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Sick headache, pain in the right side, and yellowness of the whites of the eyes are unmistakable symptoms of an approaching bilious attack, and, in order to ward it off, common prudence dictates the propriety of resorting to the most efficacious of all anti-bilious preparations—HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Flatulence, nausea, oppression after eating, irregularity of the bowels, and a distate for exertion, denote a disordered state of the stomach, which, if neglected, is sure to culminate in chronic dyspepsia, but which may be relieved in a few hours, and entirely cured in a few days, by taking half a wineglass full of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS at regular intervals. All physicians admit that innumerable lives are sacrificed every year that might have been saved by precautionary medication. Remember that one of the principal uses of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS is to put the system in a condition to REPEL DISEASE. It recruits and restores the waning strength, and is, therefore, especially needed during the season when intense heat makes such heavy and constant drafts on the vital principle.

CURE OF FISTULA.

DR. KEYSER: I write to thank you for your kindness and scientific management of my disease, for which I called to consult you some time in January last. You will remember that I had a complication of diseases, which finally ended in a terrible fistula, which I had been advised to "let alone," on account of a harassing cough, which it was feared might fasten it on my lungs. I knew that the peculiar mode of treating diseases like mine was by a cutting operation, which, if successful at all, would naturally throw the disease upon the lungs or some other vital organ, on account of the suddenness of the cure and the immediate check to the discharge, which I believed was a salutary provision of nature to get rid of some morbid condition of the system. I feel perfectly satisfied that your method of treatment, purifying the system, and local applications to the fistulous part, must cure, if anything could, without cutting, which I find it did, and I am happy to report myself well in every particular, with sounder and better health than I have had for years. I would also add that the applications you made were almost painless, and have left me a new man, with all the energies and vigor of restored health.

Yours, gratefully, I—— C——.

CAMPAIGN OF 1868.

The First Ward (Allegheny) Grant Club

Has erected a spacious stand for speakers, and at 7½ o'clock on

SATURDAY EVENING, the 25th inst.,

AT THE HOPE ENGINE HOUSE,

Foot of Marion avenue, will give to the winds of heaven their new

GIGANTIC NATIONAL FLAG.

The people en masse are expected to rally under this glorious flag on SATURDAY EVENING, and on many other occasions. For these inaugurating ceremonies a number of distinguished speakers, with a band of music, have been secured.

Hon. RUSSELL ERRETT,
JOHN M. KIRKPATRICK, Esq.,

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 24, 1868.

Government bonds are rather lower today, although a steady demand is kept up for small sums. Large capitalists have recently paid more attention to the Union and Central Pacific Railroad bonds, and round lots have been engaged for delivery so soon as the company receives the bonds. These bonds are to all appearances as secure as any Government bonds, being a first mortgage on the road, and since the company enjoys large land grants, which alone will pay for the entire road as soon as the road is finished, its ultimate safety as an investment cannot be doubted. Ph. R. Mertz, has secured a lot ready for delivery.

Gold remained firm, and was kept up by the speculators to-day in the hope of advancing the rates for the purchases necessary for to-morrow's shipment; the firmness of the bond market in Europe, however, has made exchange more plentiful, and the prospect of shipping large amounts of grain or flour to western Europe has temporarily checked the advance in gold. Increased exports of specie, however, must necessarily tend towards a higher premium, and all that would condition an immediate rise is a reaction in the price of Five Twenties in Europe; the market there is at present manipulated in the same manner as in New York.

Stocks are dull and on the decline, and most quotations are only sustained by cliques for the purpose to have the market to sell on. Our local market is well supplied with capital, of which considerable amounts are laying idle. Considerable sums would be invested in our home securities that seek employment elsewhere, if it was not for the difficulty of finding always a ready sale without submitting to honorous charges of commission; as it is, the offer to sell a few small lots will affect the market unfaverably, whilst on the other hand, a like number of orders to buy would unduly advance the market.

Business is still inactive.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

Gold, 143⅝; 1881 bonds, 115¼; 5-20s, 1862, 114¼; 1864 do, 111⅛; 1865 do, 112⅛; new, 1865 and 1867, 109⅝; Ten Forties, 108⅝; Seven Thirties, 108¾.

PITTSBURGH METAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 24, 1868.

The market continues quiet and unchanged, both in regard to demand and prices, and, as will be seen, the sales are restricted to small lots. Nor is it probable that there will be much done for some weeks to come, as the majority of the mills will soon suspend operations in order to take stock on the first of next month. Upon the whole, however, there is a fair volume of business for the season, and the market seems to be steady at quotations:

New York Dry Goods Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 24.—The market for Cotton goods is rather inactive yet steady and firm at 17½c for Amoskeag A Brown Sheetings; 17½c for Cohasset and Clarks; 13c for Dwight A, fine; 12½c for do. X; 14c for Great Falls, M and J; 15c for Laconia O; 13½c for Lawrence L L; 16c for Lyman C; 17½c for do. PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July, 24, 1868.

The general markets present but little that is new or important; for some few articles, in consequence of a temporary scarcity, prices have been advanced, but this is the exception, and not the rule. As the impression prevails that prices of almost everything must go lower, both dealers and consumers are buying very sparingly, and it is this that makes business so extremely dull. Once the harvesting has been finished and the moving of the crops commenced, we expect to see an improvement in the volume of business though a lower range of prices.

ASHES—Sales common Soda Ash at 4½c Refined do 5, Pearls 10. Market reported firm.

BUTTER—There is a continued good demand for prime fresh butter, and we quote at 28 to 30, for prime. The advance is not owing so much to scarcity, as to the fact that the weather has been so excessively hot that it could not be shipped to market. Once the weather gets a little cooler we expect to see plenty of butter and lower prices.

EGGS—Quiet and unchanged; the supply keeps up to the demand, and we can report regular sales at 21 to 22.

CHEESE—Is steady but unchanged at 13 to 14 for Western Reserve and Hamburg, 15 to 16 for Ohio Factory, and 18 to 20 for Sweitzer.

GREEN APPLES—Are in good supply, but mostly of an inferior quality; we continue to quote at $4 to $5 per bbl.

POTATOES—In steady demand and unchanged at $1,75 to $2 per bushel.

HAY—Continues scarce and firm but unchanged; sales of 24 loads at Allegheny Diamond Scales at $26 to $30—all new crop. Prime baled is selling at $25 to $28.

GRAIN—New Wheat is in steady demand at $2,20 to $2,25; sale of 4 cars prime old Red at $2,30. Corn is quiet but firm, and the stock in this market is light; offers of $1,08 for prime Yellow, and $1,09 to $1,10 asked. Rye is quiet and nominally unchanged at $1,45 to $1,50. Oats scarce and firm at 79 to 80c, on track and in elevator; sales of 1 car at 80c. No movement in Barley, as yet, nor will there be until the new crop makes its appearance.

FLOUR—Is dull, with no improvement to note in the demand, and without quotable change in price. Both dealers and consumers are buying very sparingly, which is owing to an anticipation of a still further decline in prices; bakers, who some time since would not stop with less than 50, or perhaps, 100 barrels, now take 5 or 10 barrels at a time, or just what keeps them in motion from day to-day. We continue to quote at $10 to $10,50 for good to choice Spring, and $11 for choice Minnesota; $10,75 to $11 for Winter Wheat, and $13 to $14 for fancy St. Louis brands. Rye Flour, $8,50 to $9.

LIME—Is quoted at $2 per bbl.

PIG LEAD—Sales at 10¼c.

SALT—Is dull and nominally unchanged at $1,75 to $1,80 to the trade, and $2 for small lots in store.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBUGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 24, 1868.

CRUDE—The market although quiet is steady, and notwithstanding the demand both for present, and future delivery is light, prices appear to be well sustained. Spot is still held at 14, although there were no sales; we can report 1,000 bbls for August, sellers option, at 14; 1,000 same delivery and option, at 14½; and 1,000 bbls for October, same option, at 14. Yesterday there was a sale of 2,000 bbls, seller's option, until December 1st, at 13; to-day, we heard of the same delivery and option having been offered without finding takers. The eastern markets are in the same condition as our own, quiet but steady, without little or nothing doing.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil was exceedingly quiet to-day, not a single sale reported, though, as yet, prices seem to be fully maintained. Spot or all July, is quoted at 34c; August, 34½c; August to November, 34¾c, and all the year, buyer's option, 35 to 35¼c. One thing that tends very much to keep the market steady lies in the fact that the offerings to sell are light, as our refiners, whenever the market commences to droop, haul off and keep off until there is a reaction and better prices.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals of oil to-day were as follows:

Leech & Wood	320	Fisher & Bro	480
Montz'r, K. & Co.	480	D. M. Edgerton	160
Fawcett, L. & Co.	480	H. Koehler & Co	560
W. J. Glenn	50

A great number of these wells have either been made or resucitated by the Roberts Torpedo. N. M. Barney being their agent here, his success in operating with the casting torpedo has been excellent, causing several wells which were producing nothing to now yield from 20 to 90 bbls each per day. It is a singular fact that although the Reno company have exploded torpedo after torpedo in this neighborhood they have not made a single well, and in most of their experiments have shut off what little oil the well was producing. We begin to think here, that investing in a Reno torpedo is as poor an investment as a man can make.

NOTES OF SUMMER TRAVEL.

The Lewiston Seminary—Woman's Work and Woman's Mission—Public Opinion But Half Christianized.

(Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

LEWISTON, Me., July 20, 1868.

All New England men are not Radicals. There are pro-secession, pro-liquor, anti-negro, and anti-women's rights men here. There are stationary men and bigots here. The world does not move in a lump. The leaven works on the parts.

In Lewiston, the Lowell of Maine, some fourteen years ago, the Free-Will Baptists established a Seminary, which has since grown into Bates College and the Maine State Seminary. As a denomination they have not been among the first in education, but they have been thoroughly temperance, anti-slavery and loyal. In the division of the Seminary all the ladies left the regular college course except one Miss Mitchell, who remains and will graduate next summer. Miss M. has been obliged to teach and work in the factory during her vacations, and to endure the sneers of the five gallant young gentlemen of her class, four of whom are intending to enter the Christian Ministry. In spite of all the obstacles she has to encounter, she is one of the best scholars in the class, has pursued a wider and more varied course of reading, and has acquired a fund of useful knowledge. Fearful of being outdone by a woman, these noble young men have petitioned the Faculty to have her removed. A fine fact this for Mrs. Dall and Mr. Tilton. I do not envy these young men the fame they will have. Obscurity is sometimes better than notoriety, when we see cropping out this same low view of woman and her sphere. Christianity has done much for her, but not all that is needed. Individuals do not become civilized or Christianized all over at once. Some parts of their characters remain forever dark and pagan. In the opinion of many, it will answer for a woman to sing, play, and write poetry, but nothing higher. Charles Lamb would have shut up a woman in an insane hospital who should write a book. These people will admire and praise a young lady who can sing, play, dance, dress prettily, and talk nonsense; but should she, by force of character, break through the crust of society, write a vigorous book, or address men and women in behalf of her sex, or intemperate men, or her country, she becomes an object of ridicule, is violating all the rules of her sex and the teachings of scripture. Women must be silent. The gift of speech which she has in a remarkable degree, must be exercised only in private and on foolish, trifling subjects. We are not an admirer of Gail Hamilton any more than we are of some men whom we could name. We do admire the energy and ability she has shown in making herself. We would not take her as a fair specimen of literary women any more than we would Pope of men. Pope was ugly and despised women; Gail Hamilton is ugly and hates men. There may be other causes. She gives opinions and reasons on insufficient datas. If she has received kindness from a woman and been neglected by a man, she should not from one judge all, and call all men beasts. Her constant stream of sarcasm is bad. Mary Clemmer Ames, the gifted and accomplished correspondent of the Independent, ever candid and just to all, we do admire. Her pen is not ever dipped in gall. She has a kindly, loving heart, and a keen sense of the beautiful, true and good.

If Anna Dickinson chooses to cultivate her brain instead of devoting her whole time to the folly of dress, to stir by her eloquence, men to patriotism and women to self-respect, we will not seek on every occasion to sneer at her. Can any one give a good reason why she should pass her whole life in counting nickle cents? Or must she be allowed no freedom of choice as to her path in life?

If Miss Evans, having seen and suffered, and suffered bitterly, from her childhood the evils of intemperance, impelled by a love for others, chooses to devote her life in pleading, in most persuasive and winning tones, for the closing of the rum shop and the abandoning of the intoxicating cup, we bid her God speed in her heavenly mission.

We would not exalt foolish, vain, trifling, extravagant girls above such strong, intelligent and useful women. Beauty, taste and refinement we love to see, but still more, learning, intelligence, intellectual power and unselfish devotion to the good of others. The mere adornment of a valueless thing we do not admire. There are then, strong-minded women for some cause hating and berating men, and men, ever scorning learned women. Both are partly pagans. They are not civilized and christianized all over. S.

The Tax Bill.

The President has affixed his signature to the tax bill. While the machinery of the bill is ponderous, its leading features may be brought within a brief space,

The first section taxes every proof gallon of distilled spirits fifty cents, to be paid before removal from the distillery or warehouse, which tax is a lien until paid upon the property and apparatus.

Sections 2, 3, and 4 provide for methods of testing quality and taking measurements.

Section 5 provides that distillers shall register with the assessors of the respective districts within sixty days from the time the bill takes effect.

Section 6 provides for the manner of making registry.

Sections 7 and 8 provide for the distiller's bond and securities.

Sections 9 to 12, inclusive, designate the plan of the distillery, and provide for surveys and location of buildings.

Section 13 imposes a tax of two dollars upon every twenty bushels of grain converted into spirits.

Sections 14 to 55 inclusive provide for the general management of distilleries, the relative duties of assessors and distillers, for checks against fraud, for drawbacks, means of obtaining purity, and affix penalties for all violations of the law.

Sections 56 to 58 inclusive regulate deposits in bonded warehouses.

Section 59 imposes a special tax of $400 annually upon every 100 barrels of spirits manufactured, and also provides for licenses of $700 for every $25,000 worth sold, and $10 increase for every $1,000 increase of sales.

Dealers in tobacco, selling not exceeding $10,000 worth annually, pay a tax of $25, and $2 extra for every $1,000 worth sold. Raisers are not taxed for sales of their own production. Dealers, selling between $100 and $1,000 worth, are taxed $5; those above $1,000, $2 extra for every additional $1,000 worth sold.

Manufacturers of tobacco pay $10, and $2 additional for every $1,000 their bond is in excess of $5,000. Manufacturers of cigars pay $10 where their sales do not exceed $5,000 annually, and $2 additional for every $1,000 in excess of that amount. All snuff and chewing tobacco is taxed 32 cents per pound; smoking tobacco 16 cents per pound.

Section 62 provides for the packing of tobacco and snuff so as to facilitate the collection of the tax thereon.

Section 62 to 80 provide for the manner of collecting the tax, for penalties, stamping and the general duties of the assessor and manufacturer or dealer.

Manufacturers of cigars must pay $5 for every thousand made, without regard to quality, and on all cigarettes, if they weigh less than three pounds to the thousand, $1,50; if over that weight, $5.

The time in which the bill goes into effect is fixed by

SECTION —. And be it further enacted, That all provisions of this act which require the use of stamps shall take effect at the end of sixty days from the passage of this act; provided that if at any time prior to the expiration of the said sixty days it shall be shown to the satisfaction of the Secretary of the Treasury that a longer delay is necessary for the preparation and due delivery of any such stamps, he shall be authorized to fix a day not later than the first day of December next for putting said provisions relative to the use of either of such stamps into operation, and shall give public notice of the day so fixed and determined upon, which day shall then be held and taken to be the time when that portion of this act which requires the use of stamps shall have effect.

These portions of the enactment not included in the above section take effect immediately on its passage.

Emanuel Leutze.

This eminent painter died suddenly in Washington on the 19th. He was born in Germany, but was brought to this country at an early age by his parents, who located in the upper part of that city. Having a decided talent for the brush and palette, young Leutze embraced that profession, and soon gave evidence of genius and taste in the higher walks of his intellectual calling. After having painted several works which called forth praises from persons fully competent to pronounce a critical judgment, in 1841 he went abroad, becoming a pupil of the celebrated Lessing. Two of his works in Europe, "Columbus before the Council of Salamanca," and "Columbus in Chains," were much praised, as was also "Columbus before the Queen," finished in 1843. In 1845, after studying in Venice and Rome, he was married, and took up his residence in Dusseldorf. He afterward devoted himself to historical subjects, producing many well known and much admired pictures, among the most celebrated of which in this country are "Washington Crossing the Delaware," "Washington at Monmouth," and "Sergeant Jasper." In 1859, after being absent eighteen years, he returned to the United States, where he has since resided. His painting "Westward ho!" with the motto, "Westward the Star of Empire takes its way," above the great marble staircase in the interior of the south wing of the Capitol, is the most pretentious work executed by Mr. Leutze since his return from the Old World. The sensuous pieces of Mr. Leutze were of a high order of merit, but his historical works lacked that severity of taste and profound knowledge of character in its various aspects necessary to stamp them among the efforts of the masters. In social life Mr. Leutze was a favorite, and enjoyed the respect and esteem of a large circle of attached friends.

Interesting Law Case.

The well known firm of Wells, Fargo & Co., having agreed to carry from Mexico to Massachusetts ninety double eagles of the gold coinage of the United States, and the coins not having been delivered, suit was brought and damages claimed as of the market value of the gold. The defendants contended that they were only bound to make good the loss in legal tender notes, dollar for dollar. Chief Justice Chapman, of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, decided, however, that the owner of the eagles was entitled to judgment for their nominal value, and thirty per cent. additional, with interest.

It has recently been decided that the provision of the Stamp law which excludes unstamped deeds, &c., from being used in any court, applies only to the United States Courts.

The Supreme Court of New York have, in a recent case, decided that a bill of exchange for two thousand dollars in gold can only be discharged by a sum in currency equal to that amount with the premium added.

The Supreme Court of the Sandwich Islands have just decided that an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide is not indictable. At common law suicide was a felony, and the attempt to commit suicide indictable.

CONGRESS, by inserting a provision in the Indian Appropriation bill that all expenditures under its operation are to be approved first by Lieut. Gen. Sherman, has done a wise act. The Government will be the gainer just so much as the thieves will be the losers.

Most Bitters of the present day that are loudly puffed through the newspapers as having great curative properties are vile compounds and base impositions, containing no medicinal virtues whatever, and are really very poor whisky beverages, and, instead of acting as a stimulant and tonic, have a tendency to weaken the stomach by entirely destroying the coating. The public should therefore be very cautious and purchase none but Roback's Stomach Bitters, which have stood the test as a remedial agent for many years, and are really as their name indicates, a stomach bitters and not a beverage. They combine the properties of the best tonic and a stimulant—a laxative, an efficient and anti-bilious agent and the best stomachic known to the world, and when taken in conjunction with Roback's Blood Pills, are the safest and surest preventive against all bilious derangements, thoroughly regulating the whole system and giving tone to the digestive organs.

They are highly recommended as an invigorating tonic to mothers while nursing, increasing the flow of milk, and for convalescents, to restore the prostration which always follows long-continued sickness, they are unsurpassed. No household should consider themselves safe from the ordinary maladies without these invaluable medicines. They can be obtained of any druggist. TTSF

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Daily Prayer Meeting—From 12 M. to 12:30 o'clock at the Methodist Church, Fifth street, next door to GAZETTE office.

Meeting of Councils.—A regular monthly meeting of Pittsburgh Councils will be held on Monday, at two o'clock p. m.

Axle Broken.—Yesterday evening a carriage, in pulling off the Passenger Railway track corner Fifth and Grant streets, broke the rear axle, which let the vehicle "down a peg."

Desertion.—Ellen Dugan made information before Justice Barker, of South Pittsburgh, yesterday, charging her husband, John Dugan, with abandonment. The parties reside in Limerick. John was arrested and held for a hearing.

Illegal Liquor Selling.—John Haggerty appeared before Justice Barker yesterday and charged William and Catherine Hannon with illegal liquor selling. The accused were arrested and held to bail for their appearance at Court.

Correction.—We yesterday stated that Mr. J. A. Webber had been committed to jail by Alderman M'Masters on oath of Louis Siegrist for false pretence. The case was just the reverse, Mr. Webber being the prosecutor and Siegrist the defendant.

Pardon Wanted.—We learn that an effort is being made by the friends of Michael Leonard, convicted at September sessions, 1867, of felonious assault and battery on Patrick Graham, and sentenced to six years imprisonment in the Penitentiary, to obtain a pardon for him.

Coroner's Inquest.—Coroner Clawson held an inquest yesterday on the body of Peter Reinehardt, who died suddenly at his residence in Reserve township, yesterday morning, at ten o'clock. Several witnesses were examined, after which the jury returned a verdict of death from natural causes.

Cutting Affray.—Two men named Meyers and Price got into a difficulty about a pair of boots in a tavern in Temperanceville, on Thursday evening, during which Meyers drew a knife and inflicted a severe gash across the forehead of Price. The wound, though painful, is not considered dangerous.

Assault and Battery.—John Hanlon made information before Justice Barker yesterday charging William and Catherine Hannon with assault and battery. He alleges that the accused came to his house during his absence and abused his wife, who was lying in bed sick. They were arrested and held to bail for their appearance at Court.

False Pretense.—Rudolph Conig made information charging Charles Schueter, with obtaining goods under false pretense. He alleges that the accused by false and fraudulent representations obtained from him a watch valued at $24. Schueter was arrested and taken before Justice Barker, yesterday, when the case was compromised.

Great Was the Fall.—During the wind storm which prevailed in this locality Thursday afternoon the stack at Coward's brick yard, in the Eleventh ward, was blown down. The structure was of brick, eighty feet in heighth. No person was injured by the fall, and the property surrounding was but slightly damaged.

Filling Up.—The low ground in the triangular space formed by Allegheny avenue, Ridge and Rebecca streets, in the Fifth ward, Allegheny, is being filled up. This place has heretofore been quite an annoyance on account of the stagnant water which collected there during the summer time, and the improvement will be duly appreciated by residents in the vicinity.

The Pittsburgh Saengerfest.—The Committee appointed to make arrangements for holding the Saengerfest of the Pittsburgh district have fixed upon the first, second and third of September as the time, and have secured the Keystone Skating Rink, City Hall, Turners' Hall and Lafayette Hall for the occasion. The proceedings will be introduced by a grand torch light procession, to be followed by the usual entertainments.

Alleged Thief Captured.—Officer Barber yesterday arrested William Manners, a boy about eighteen years of age, on a telegram from John S. Krepps, of Brownsville. It is alleged that the boy, who was employed as a hostler by Mr. Krepps, left the premises Thursday night, taking with him a trunk belonging to his employer, and came on a steamboat to this city. The trunk was found at the Brownsville wharf boat, where the boy was arrested. Officer Lynch of Brownsville, came to the city yesterday and took the prisoner back with him.

Alleged Larceny.—Thomas Grady was arrested on a charge of larceny on oath of Henry Millenger, of the firm of Millinger & Bidwell, who alleged that he had reason to believe the accused had stolen a cable from a raft, valued at $60. Justice Barker before whom the information was made, committed the accused for a hearing and issued a search warrant. The residence of Grady was searched, but nothing was discovered, and the evidence being insufficient to warrant the magistrate in holding him to appear at court, he was discharged.

Street Obstructions in Allegheny.—Officer Swain, who has been detailed by Mayor Drum to see that the ordinance in regard to street obstructions is complied with, yesterday arrested quite a number of parties for allowing their wagons to stand on the streets. They were each fined two dollars and costs. Warrants have also been issued for the arrest of about half a dozen others for the same offense. Notice has been given to owners of planing mills and manufactories that for any violation of the ordinance they will be dealt with according to its provisions.

Drunk and Disorderly.—Blassius Ranch made information before Justice Barker yesterday, charging James Hollingan with disorderly conduct. The prosecutor is the proprietor of an eating house in South Pittsburgh where it is alleged the accused called and ordered dinner and liquor, which he ate and drank, and then left without footing the bill. When arrested Hollingen made considerable resistance, but was finally taken to the office, when he admitted the offense and stated as an excuse for his conduct that he was traveling and had run out of money, that he preferred this method of getting his dinner to begging. He was released on condition that he would leave the borough immediately.

The night before last we were fortunate enough to be on Ridge street, in Allegheny. Ridge street is decidedly the prettiest street in either city, with its neat houses, smooth road-way and two beautiful rows of trees, so that when there, one might almost imagine one's self in the country. It is probably to further this allusion and render the scene still more pastoral that the police of Allegheny forbear from the enforcement of the law forbidding cattle to roam at large within the city limits. When we were on Ridge street, the night before last, we counted seven cows that were promenading on the sidewalk in their usual stately and graceful manner. There are times it is sweet to gaze upon the kind, peaceful faces of the bovine race, and no doubt, as we said before, it is for this reason that the noble animals are turned loose and remain unmolested on the highways of the city. Some ladies who happened to be passing along at the same time, showed the absence of poetry in their disposition by becoming frightened and walking out into the street to avoid the animals, but such cowardice should not be fostered in women, and the cows seemed to enjoy it.

New Church—Bellefield (O. S.) Presbyterian—Dedication To-Morrow.

One of the neatest and most perfect church edifices which have been built in our vicinity lately is that of the Bellefield Presbyterian Church (O. S.) on the Mechanics and Farmers turnpike, in the Fourteenth ward, Pittsburgh. The building is located on a rising ground just off from the road, from whence can be had a fine view of the surrounding country.

The structure, occupying a space of ground fifty feet in front and ninety-seven in depth, is frame with stone foundation, and slate roof, built in the gothic style of architecture, one story high, the outside walls being made of vertical weatherboarding with grooved strips covering the joints, all painted and sanded in imitation of stone.

The height of the main portion of the building is forty feet, while at the left side is a square bell tower rising seventy-four feet from base to pinnacle, from which one of A. Fulton & Son's sweet-toned bells sends forth its clear sonorous sounds to call the worshipers together

The outside ornamentation is all of carved work of the most elaborate pattern, and adds very much to the beautiful appearance of the building. Access is gained to the interior, which is handsomely carpeted throughout, through a Gothic arched double doorway, the greater portion of the front of the main building being occupied with a large triple window. In the interior a space across the front fourteen feet wide is reserved for the vestibule, which extends under the tower, and has at the opposite side a winding stairway leading to a small gallery directly above.

The cushioned pews in the main audience room are in themselves worthy of notice. The ends are of walnut, with Gothic paneling of ash, and surmounted back and sides with scroll work of a unique pattern, the whole oiled, but unpainted, thus preserving the natural appearance of the wood.

The pulpit is simply a light stand placed on a raised platform built into an arched stucco finished recess, and extending out a short distance from the wall. On each side of the platform is a large ornamented pillar for the lamp stand.

On the left of the pulpit a space enclosed by a fancy iron railing is set apart for the organ and choir.

The roof of the building is paneled in arches between the rafters, with joined arches along the sides, even with the tops of the windows, all painted and grained in light oak. The remainder of the walls are plastered in imitation of granite, which presents an exceedingly neat and tasteful appearance.

Immediately in the rear of the auditorium is the Sunday School room, which is several feet wider, forming wings on each side, the front of which is square in form, and the rear end a semi-octagon. This room is fitted up with all the latest improvements in Sunday School architecture, and seems admirably adapted to the purpose for which it is to be used. There are two smaller rooms at one side, calculated for bible class rooms, which communicate with the large Sunday School room by sliding doors.

The whole expense of the structure, including the purchase of the lot, is $16,000, and for its size, is certainly a model, and reflects great credit on all concerned in its erection. Messrs. A. and S. Wilson, the builders, seem to have carried out very carefully the plan as prepared by the architecs, Isaac H. Hobbs & Son, of Philadelphia, which in a great measure accounts for its present appearance.

The dedicatory services will take place to-morrow, at which it is expected the pastor, Rev. E. T. Carnahan, will be assisted by other well known divines of the vicinity. To those who wish to enjoy a feast of good things in this line, the mere notice of these services will be sufficient.

Meeting of the Street Committee—Change of Grade on Centre Avenue.

At a meeting of the Street Committee, held last evening at the office of the City Engineer, the matter of the change of grade on Centre avenue was brought before the Committee.

It appears that several persons owning property on the avenue were dissatisfied with the grade, as established by the engineer, and the matter having been agitated in the community, he was seriously reflected upon and unfounded charges made against him concerning the matter. At the meeting last night the dissatisfied parties were present and presented their grievances; but when the matter was thoroughly investigated Mr. Moore proved clearly that he had done the best he possibly could do for the owners on the avenue. After the engineer had explained the grade and his reasons for adopting it, all parties appeared satisfied with it and were willing that it should remain as fixed by him, and the Street Committee approved of his action; but for the sake of having a uniform grade decided upon the following change: At a point 359 feet east of Erin street the grade is to be raised one foot above the grade now established, and to run at a uniform grade from that point to the present grade at Erin street.

The engineer was instructed to prepare an ordinance authorizing the above change, to be submitted at the next meeting of Councils.

Meeting in the Seventh Ward—Grant and Colfax Club to be Organized.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Republicans of the Seventh ward was held last evening at the School House on Franklin street for the purpose of making arrangements for organizing a Grant and Colfax Club.

The meeting was organized by calling Major Samuel Kilgore to the chair and appointing William Shore, Secretary.

Several able and eloquent speeches were made, after which the following gentlemen were appointed a Committee on Permanent Organization: James Patterson, John A. Gimpsey, John Leech, A. J. Reynolds and Alexander Seanor.

The meeting then adjourned to meet at the School House on Tuesday evening, the 28th inst., at 7½ o'clock for permanent organization.

Adjourned Again.

The Republican Conferees of the Twenty-Fourth Congressional District met at the Monongahela House in this city on Thursday, and after a session of two days adjourned for two weeks, without making a nomination. We have been informed that Mr. Lawrence, of Washington county, has withdrawn from the contest, which if the statement is correct, will leave but three candidates in the field, and a nomination will be made at the next meeting without further trouble.

The Democratic conferees from that district met at the St. Charles Hotel on Wednesday. Each county presented a candidate, and after several ineffectual ballots they adjourned to meet on Wednesday the 29th inst.

Non Est.

The officers at the Mayor's office are anxious to learn of the whereabouts of William Hodgers, who a few days since obtained goods from the firm of Sellers & Co., Penn street, to the value of $140 under false pretence, but William is not to be found. Samuel Dicky, clerk for the firm mentioned, made information before the Mayor yesterday, charging Hodgers with obtaining goods under false pretence. He alleges that the accused purchased goods to the amount of $140, for which amount he gave a check on the National Trust Company which was ascertained to be worthless, as he had no funds in that institution. A warrant was issued for his arrest, but it is supposed that he has gone to England.

Arrest of an Alleged Thief from Brownsville—The Stolen Property Recovered.

On Thursday morning about eleven o'clock Alderman McMasters received a telegraphic dispatch from Col. J. S. Krepps, of Brownsville, authorizing him to arrest a young man named William Hanna, who had stolen a trunk and shipped for Pittsburgh on the steamer Elector, of the People's Line. Officer Blondin went down to the Company's landing and waited for the arrival of the boat, which came in shortly after noon, but missed his man, who came down on the Franklin, of the Old Line. The officer, however, not to be outwitted, searched around until he found the trunk and baggage of the passenger, and seating himself alongside of them, awaited the coming of the chap. He had not waited long before the fellow made his appearance, and he was immediately arrested. He had in his possession fourteen keys of different patterns, which, it was afterwards ascertained he had obtained at a hardware store on Market street, stating that he had lost his trunk key and wanted to get a new one, and leaving a ten dollar bill as security for the return of the keys when he had found one to fit the lock. The prisoner was lodged in jail and Mr. Krepps informed by telegraph of his apprehension. Yesterday an officer from Brownsville came down with a warrant for his arrest, on a charge of larceny, issued by a Justice of the Peace of that place, and took him back to answer the charge. The stolen property consisted of twenty-five dollars in cash and the trunk containing some books, silver-ware, clothing and other valuables. The accused is said to have made a confession, acknowledging his guilt in the affair and detailing the circumstances. He is about nineteen years of age, of gentlemanly appearance and looks more like an innocent man than a person who would be guilty of any such transaction as that of which he is accused. He has been in the employ of Col. Krepps for a short time, and secured his engagement by representing himself an experienced hand among horses. As the Col. is a great lover of horse flesh and keeps a good stable, he had no difficulty in obtaining a situation. Great credit is due to officer Blondon for the efficient manner in which he conducted the affair.

Robbery on Liberty Street.

A decidedly bold and impudent robbery was perpetrated at the tobacco and segar store of John Hays, No. 239 Liberty street, between twelve and one o'clock yesterday morning, and goods to the value of $150 carried away. A gentleman residing on Wood street near Liberty at the time stated observed persons approaching the door of the store where the robbery was perpetrated, one of whom broke the glass in the door, when they all ran away. They returned in a few moments, however, and by reaching through the broken glass removed the bar which secured the door, when they entered the store. The gentleman says that he informed a policeman, who, instead of attempting to arrest the burglars, started after assistance, but before he could return the burglars had left with their booty. They subsequently returned and entered the store again, when the officers, who had been watching it, unobserved by the thieves, reached the door and arrested one of them as they came out, but for some reason allowed him to escape. No arrests have been made since and nothing further is known about the matter, except that two valuable pipes and a package of segars, answering the description of the goods stolen, were found on the railroad bridge over the Allegheny river.

City Mortality.

Dr. A. G. McCandless, Physician to the Board of Health, reports the following interments in the city of Pittsburgh, from July 12th to July 19th, 1868:

Diseases—Consumption, 4; Disease of Brain, 5; Congestive Fever, 1; Apoplexy, 1; Sunstroke, 3; Unknown, 1; Septicema, 1; Pneumonia, 1; Tuberculosis, 3; Debility, 1; Cholera Infantum, 21; Inflammation of Bowels, 4; Inanition, 1; Drowned, 2; Convulsions, 4; Cerebro Spinal Meningitis, 1; Unknown, 1; Erysipelas, 1; Still-born, 1; Congestion of Brain, 3; Gastro Ententis, 1.—61.

Of the above there were: Under 1 year, 29; from 1 to 2, 6; 2 to 5, 1; 5 to 10, 2; 10 to 15, 2; 20 to 30, 8; 30 to 40, 7; 40 to 50, 2; 50 to 60, 2; 60 to 70, 2.

Males, 33; females, 28; white, 59; colored, 2; total, 61.

The death report from the old city this week is 36, and from the new districts 25.

Narrow Escape from Drowning.

Some of the members of the fishing party which went from here a short time ago had a narrow escape from drowning the other day in Chartiers Creek, where they are located. It seems that F. H. Eaton, Jr., was wading out to pull in the sein, when he stepped into a hole, the water in which was over his head. His father seeing him sinking endeavored to save him, when he was also drawn in. Dr. Arthurs next went to the rescue, and after considerable difficulty succeeded in bringing them ashore, not, however, before they were almost drowned. As it was a good ducking and considerable fright was all they suffered.

Election of Teachers.

On Wednesday evening, July 22d, at a meeting of the Board of School Directors of Reserve Independent School District, held at Lutz Hall, the following teachers were selected for the present year:

Spring Garden School—Principal, Milton Jones; Assistant, Miss Salina Ackley; Primary, Misses Mary E. M'Clelland, Mattie Brown and Mattie M'Candless.

Troy Hill School—Principal, Samuel Campbell; Assistant, Miss Lizzie M'Cormick.

Woodville School—Principal, J. M. Conroy; Assistant, Miss Lydia Porter.

Trouble About Some Pictures.

A. J. Baird made information before Alderman Strain, yesterday, against Mrs. Driscoll, residing at No. 36 Webster street, for larceny as bailee. He alleged that the defendant procured from him two pictures, valued at twelve dollars, which she refused to return.

The same prosecutor also charged Mrs. Cunningham, residing in McElroy's court, Sixth ward, with a similar offense, the property in this case being valued at six dollars. A hearing was had in both cases and the defendants discharged, the prosecutor paying the costs.

The Assessors' Returns.

But five of the Assessors in the city had made their returns to the Controller last evening, but they will probably all be handed in to-day, so that the Committee appointed by Councils to make the apportionment of representatives in Common Council will be enabled to make their report on Monday.

The following are the number of taxables received: First ward, 1,058; Seventh ward, 1,000; Eighth ward, 948; Eleventh ward, 915; Twentieth ward, 200; Twenty-third ward, 264.

We understand that the first nine of the Olympic Base Ball Club intend starting off on a starring tour to some of the western cities about the 3d of August. They will probably visit Steubenville, Columbus, Detroit, Toledo and Cleveland, and we hope they will have a good time, as we feel sure they will have a triumphant one.

Likeness of Grant.—Full-sized portrait of Grant, on colored card board, the best and cheapest likeness to be had, for twenty-five cents, at No. 84 Fifth street. daw

The Chartiers Valley Railroad.

From the following letter to the Committee appointed by the subscribers to the Chartiers Valley Railroad, by Mr. Thomas L. Jewett, President of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis Railroad Company, it appears that the company are in earnest, and if the subscribers comply with the requirements of the company, as they doubtless will, the road will be put under contract immediately:

PITTSB'H, CINCINNATI & ST. LOUIS R.R., STEUBENVILLE, O., July 23, 1868.

Messrs. Ewing, Reid, McDaniels and others, Committee in regard to Chartiers Valley Railway, Washington, Pa.

GENTLEMEN: I have to-day sent an engineering party to prepare about seven (7) miles of the line from Mansfield to Canonsburg, including the "big tunnel," for letting. This we expect to do about the first of September; in the meantime the subscriptions must be put in different shape from what they now stand; although we have no doubt of their legality, and the good faith of the subscribers, we are unwilling to be left in a position for probable litigation with even one of them. It is an axiom with which we are too familiar, that individuals will do that toward corporations which they would not to each other, and in the present attitude of the subscribers they might refuse to pay our calls, and set up as a defence that the work had not progressed according to the terms of the subscriptions: this would involve legal proceedings on our part, which we intend to avoid. I have personally intervened to get you relieved from the amount originally required, and hope that the obstacle now referred to will be speedily removed.

Mr. Thomson who feels very kindly disposed towards your citizens, who take so deep an interest in the work, is unwilling to place either himself or his company in the position they would be, if he accepted these subscriptions under the conditions expressed in them, implying as they do, a want of confidence on the part of the subscribers that the work will be carried on in good faith.

I therefore propose the following form as a heading for the stock subscriptions, viz:

We the undersigned do hereby subscribe to the capital stock of the Chartiers Valley Railroad Company the number of shares set opposite our names, and agree to pay the same in installments, to be called in by the company as follows, viz:

Ten per cent. on the first of October, 1868.
Ten per cent. on the 2d of November, 1868.
Twenty per cent. on the 1st of Jan'ry, 1869.
Twenty per cent. on the 1st of March, 1869.
Ten per cent. on the first of April, 1869.
Ten per cent. on the first of May, 1869..
Ten per cent. on the first of June, 1869
Ten per cent. on the first of July, 1869.

Very truly, &c.,
(Signed,) THOS. L. JEWETT, President.

The Place to Purchase.

It is a settled principle in every branch of trade, as well as a matter of economy, for purchasers to buy their goods where they can get the best article for the least money, and it is upon this principle that crowds of persons daily throng the book and stationery store of Colonel J. D. Eagan, Sixth street, near Smithfield. The Colonel's stock embraces over five thousand volumes of rare and valuable books, which he is selling at less than eastern prices. All the magazines for August are already upon his counter, and the most complete and best assorted stock of writing paper, envelopes, &c., he offers to the public at the most reasonable rates, either wholesale or retail. Country dealers should give him a call.

Would you have the latest and most perfect Sewing Machine yet invented? One that is not half the time out of order, and when in order requiring your utmost skill and patience to work it? If so, go and examine Singer's new Noiseless Machine, and our word for it, you will not go away without leaving your order. With less than half the trouble, it will do anything that any other machine will do, no matter how fine or how coarse. Its attachments for hemming, felling, braiding, cording, tucking, &c., are the latest and most perfect. A call on Straw & Morton, corner St. Clair and Penn streets, will convince you that the Singer is exactly what you want. Prices and terms of payment to suit everybody.

Remember the Sale of Dry Goods, without regard to cost, at the Masonic Hall Auction House of Smithson, Vanhook & McClelland, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street. The firm have determined to withdraw entirely from this department of their business, and hence no respect is paid to the original cost of goods. Never before in this city have such unusual bargains in dress goods, housekeeping goods, sunshades, parasols, quilts, spreads, rugs, mattrasses, etc., etc., been offered, and those who fail to attend will miss a glowing opportunity. We feel that we are unable to impress in strong enough terms the importance of our readers laying in a full supply of such goods during the continuance of this great sacrifice sale.

Burnett's Celebrated Standard Preparations.—It is affirmed by druggists that Burnett's Preparations are without a parallel for the elegance of their appearance and the scientific nature of their composition. To our readers we would recommend them as being fully worthy of their great reputation. The Cocoaine is not only an elegant article in hair dressing, but a complete eradicator of dandruff and cure for baldness. Burnett & Co. are also the manufacturers of a list of flavoring extracts for culinary purposes which for power, combined with purity are unequaled.—Montreal Transcript. T.T.S.W.

At W. W. Moorhead's, 81 Market street, a large and well selected stock of lace goods and trimmings are being sold at remarkably low prices. The goods sold at this establishment are purchased from first class houses expressly for this market, thus saving the jobber's profit, consequently Mr. Moorhead is enabled to sell at lower rates the same quality of goods, than others are, who do not adopt his system of purchasing.

The Trimming Store at 81 Market street, Mr. W. W. Moorhead, proprietor, is the great emporium for ladies who want a first class article of fashionable goods. The stock of lace goods and trimmings is one of the largest and best selection ever brought to this market, and they are being sold at unusually low figures. The corps of clerks at this establishment take pleasure in showing goods to all who favor them with a call.

The most popular ladies' dining rooms are those of Mr. P. H. McGuire, No. 105 Fifth street. Ladies and gentlemen can at all hours procure meals served in the very best style and at the most reasonable rates. No bar is attached to this first-class establishment, and ladies can visit it unaccompanied with gentlemen with perfect impunity. A visit from all is respectfully solicited.

Young Men's Christian Association.—The regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held in their rooms, No. 23 Fifth street, this Saturday evening. Every member is earnestly requested to be present, as business of great importance will be transacted.

In the Want Column will be found an advertisement of Weyman's Hemp Duster, for dusting furniture, &c. This duster will last as long as five or six feather dusters, and retails at fifty cents. For sale wholesale and retail by Morris, Hood & Co., 89 Fifth street.

Tent Preaching.—To-morrow (Sunday) afternoon there will be services held in the "Tent," conducted by the Young Men's Christian Association, services to commence at a quarter past four o'clock, on the West Commons, Allegheny City.

Simple Facts Beyond Dispute.

Last year the Singer Sewing Machine Company, owing to the perfection reached in their new noiseless machine, sold 43,058—being 5,000 machines more than the sales of the next largest company.

This machine having been before the public but little more than two years, and having been rarely seen in print, does it not follow that it must possess extraordinary merit to have achieved such success?

No matter how great your prejudice may be in favor of any other machine, a visit to the sales rooms of Straw & Morton, corner of St. Clair and Penn streets, will result in converting you to the belief that Singer's new noiseless machine is infinitely better than any other.

It runs as light as the lightest.
It has the most perfect feed.
It has the best hemmer and other attachments.
It has a self-adjusting tension.
It has a wider range of work, without change of needle, thread or tension than any other machine. It is as certain at all times and as durable as Singer's old machine, and is much simpler than any machine yet invented.

A First Class Saloon.

The saloon at No. 105 Fifth street, under the supervision of Mr. P. H. M'Guire, is in every respect a first class establishment. The rooms are admirably arranged for the purpose, and are elegantly and tastefully furnished. The ladies' dining room is separate and distinct from the other apartments, consequently ladies either alone or attended by gentlemen can visit the establishment with the utmost propriety. The tables are supplied at all times with the best of everything to be obtained in the market, including all the delicacies of the season. The situation of the house is a recommendation, as it is located on the upper portion of Fifth street, in a quiet and pleasant community. Notwithstanding this establishment has been opened to the public but a short time, it is highly appreciated, and is destined to be one of the leading dining saloons in the city. We take pleasure in recommending the establishment to the public generally.

Now is the Time.

Property owners and others having plumbing or gas fitting to do, if they are wise, will of course have the work done while the weather is pleasant, the reasons for which are so numerous and palpable that it is useless for us to recite them. In this connection we would call attention to the fact that Mr. T. T. Ewens, whose establishment is at No. 165 Wood street, is a practical plumber, steam and gas fitter himself, employs none, but the best workmen, and the result is that work entrusted to him invariably renders satisfaction. At his store will be found a full supply of gas and water fixtures which will be furnished at the most reasonable rates. He also gives especial attention to work in the country. All orders executed promptly.

If You Want a Good Reliable, Sewing Machine, Go to 112 Grant Street.

Don't be humbugged by purchasing an inferior article, which you will have to exchange for a Weed and lose one-half of your money.

By calling at the Weed office you can see new machines of other makes once considered first-class machines, at less than half price, which have been taken in part pay for the Weed.

Weed does not take fits or spells; it is always ready.

This machine can be paid for in monthly installments.

The Original Diamond Front.

McBride & George are the proprietors of the "Original Diamond Front" grocery store, No. 164 Federal street, Allegheny. This establishment is now one of the leading business houses in the two cities, and for quality of goods has no superior in the West. The most complete assortment of tea, coffee, sugar and spices to be found in the city is constantly kept on hand, so that the purchaser has no difficulty at any time in receiving anything he may desire in the grocery line. The firm also deal extensively in provisions of all kinds, and in fact keep a first-class family store.

Bates & Bell, No. 21 Fifth street, have one of the largest and most judiciously selected stock of dress goods ever offered in this market, which, owing to the fact that they were purchased during the recent decline in goods of that quality in the East at very low rates, they are enabled to sell upon the most reasonable terms. The well established reputation of this old and reliable firm needs no recommendation. It is one of the leading business houses in the country.

The Continental.—We can think of no better place in the city to get a good, clean, square meal than at Holtzheimer's Continental Dining Rooms, Fifth street, next door to the Postoffice. Mr. H. has had an extensive experience as a caterer, and in his line has no superior. The dining rooms are always kept in the most perfect order, and an accommodating corps of attendants are always ready to wait upon customers.

Holtzheimer's, on Fifth street, one door west of the west of the Postoffice, is the place for the hungry to go. His tables are always supplied with the best the market affords, which is prepared and served in a style to challenge competition. Remember the place, next door to the Postoffice, Fifth street.

No. 20 South Avenue.—This (Saturday) morning at 10 o'clock, will be sold at auction on the premises, that very eligible private residence, No. 20 South avenue, Allegheny City, with handsomely laid out grounds and out-buildings. Smithson, Vanhook & McClelland, auctioneers.

A Terrible Truth!—Caustic solutions for Catarrh drive the disease upon the lungs. Dr. Kennedy's "Permanent Cure for Catarrh" is successful, because it soothes and heals the ulcerated membrane of the nose and throat. It is sold by all druggists. DAW Politicians, remember that Pittock has everything you want for the Presidential campaign. Send for his circular.

Campaign Goods—Send to Pittock for a circular.

Foley's Gold Pen—Pittock has them.

Planchette at Pittock's.

The Question Settled.—It is a settled fact that at the "Original Diamond Front Grocery," No. 164 Federal street, Allegheny, is to be found one of the largest and best selected stocks of tea, sugar, spices, canned fruits and provisions in the two cities. Messrs. McBride & George, the gentlemanly proprietors of the establishment, are both practical business men and fully understand the wants of their customers. Housekeepers and the community in general cannot fail to be suited at the "Diamond Front," both in quality of goods and the prices at which they are sold.

The Emporium for fashionable goods is at 21 Fifth street, the old and well known firm of Bates & Bell. The stock of dry goods now offered to the public at this representative house is one of the largest and best selected in the city, and purchasers will find it to their advantage to examine it. The firm have established a reputation for keeping a superior quality of goods, and the purchaser has the advantage of making his selections from the immense stock, which includes a greater variety than is usually offered in this market.

The best and Original Tonic of Iron, Phosphorus and Calisaya, known as Caswell, Mack & Co's Ferro Phosphorated Elixir of Calisaya Bark.
